HABIT OF PADDING CIRCULATION GETS UNCLE SAM'S IRE

Twisted Newspaper Figures Likely to Cause Investigation by Postoffice Department, Says Washington Report.

AUTHORITIES ARE AWARE OF EVASIONS PRACTICED

"Futurist" Journalism Violates Spirit of Bourne Law, Which Requires a Sworn Statement of Actual Bona Fide Circulation.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, January 12.—(Special.) Newspaper correspondents here are busy on the trail of a report to the effect that the postoffice department is about to inquire into the matter of tainted newspaper circulations, with the possibility of drastic penalties in the background.

The department long has known that in various parts of the country the most flagrant evasions have been practiced upon public credulity and the guileless advertisers by circulations artificially boosted and statements of circulations mendacious at the first glance of the eye of the expert. Until a year ago the government had no recourse against this sort of high-class "strong-arm" work. Now the Bourne law puts a sufficient tool in its hand. The Bourne law, passed a year or so ago, requires publishers of daily newspapers and periodicals generally to publish in their own columns, twice a year, a sworn statement of circulation.

Padded Circulation.

The department knows, also, I learn from a minor official, that while this law is observed in the letter, it is violated in the spirit often and insolently.

But a few newspapers, perpetuating the cut-throat and unscrupulous practices of a dead era, do not hesitate to pad their circulation right and left. The thing can be done in many ways and yet fool the advertiser. One expedient is the trick of frequent extras. Let some trivial happening occur, and out goes an extra on the street, the sole justification being a single flaring headline of hysterical tenor. If legitimate pretext doesn't offer, there is no difficulty in the way of conscience or imagination to invent one.

Those Sunday Circulations.

Another favorite dodge is the bloated Sunday circulation, the paper being printed on Friday often, and sent out ahead of time. There is no law against that violation of the first rle of accuracy in news, but it is said the postoffice department is looking into the matter of having half-baked or no-baked Sunday issues palmed off as regular issues and with practically no advertising.

This is "futurist" journalism with a vengeance, but those who follow it claim it is enterprising. It stings the man who buys the paper for the news of the day before, and it stings the advertiser.

Pure Inflation.

Circulation built in this, and innumerable other devious ways, is not circulation. It is a thin envelope inflated to the farthest limit. For these rapid-fire extras, after they have gulled the street reader, are nothing but duplicated circulation. The fake "Sunday" newspaper goes the same way.

Yet the "enterprising" circulation managers of these papers have the effrontery to class each one of these products as bona-fide circulation.

"Conning" Advertisers.

The advertisers are the "come-ons" for this little game. They see an impressive statement of circulation. They see a chance to get their wares before a formidable list of people. They buy space.

And in each single instance, as has been proved more than once, they do not get that for which they pay by anywhere from 25 to 50 per cent.

Government Investigating.

The Bourne law has been in effect only a year. The department hasn't yet had the opportunity to work out a uniform system of analysis and standards for circulation. It is believed now to be doing so.

It is said the advertisers are beginning to clamor for action, insisting they have as much right to protection as any other legitimate industry suffering from competitors who evade the real purpose of the law.

SEEKING FOR GOLD MASKED MEN BEAT AGED DYING WOMAN

Baltimore, Md., January 12.—After dragging a dying woman, 88 years old, from her bed and tying her to a chair and beating into insensibility her 60-year-old son, who went to her rescue, two masked men tonight ransacked the home of Charles Kimmel at Middle River, near here, in search of a quantity of gold reputed to be hidden in the house.

Kimmel and his mother were found an hour afterwards by a physician, who had been summoned to the house to attend the aged woman. The robbers obtained only a small amount of money.

RYAN DUBS WILSON GREAT PRESIDENT AND A GREAT MAN

New York, January 12.—Thomas F Ryan, appearing in the financial district in a snow storm today for the first time in several months, announced that the National Bank of Commerce, of which he is a stockholder, will join the federal reserve organization.

"I hope all the other national banks will do the same," he added. "The whole country is proud of President Wilson for the masterly way in which he handled the most difficult situation and got results. I consider it the greatest achievement of any president since Lincoln.

"It would be unfair to him and unpatriotic generally to withhold the most hearty support of the great measure he has evolved and made a fact. He is a great man and a great president, and the greatest thing about him is that he plays no favorites."

Mr. Ryan is 63 years old, and rarely talks for publication.

NEGROES WHO ENDED LIFE OF MRS. IRBY TO HANG FOR CRIME

Robert Paschal and George and William Hart Found Guilty by Jury and Sentenced by Judge Ben Hill.

Three negroes, Robert Paschal and George and William Hart, accused of the murder of Mrs. John Irby, a Jefferson county woman, were sentenced to hang late Monday afternoon in Judge Ben Hill's criminal division of the Fulton county superior court, after a jury had brought in a verdict of guilty. The jury was out but ten minutes. Judge Hill set the date of the executions for February 6, just twenty-six days from today. Twenty days is the shortest time after a verdict that convicted prisoners can be sent to the gallows. Judge Hill added the six extra days so as to conform to the rule in the state that all executions take place on Friday. The trio will be hanged at the Tower.

Fear of lynching by aroused residents of Jefferson county led to the spectacular cross-country trip by which the three condemned men were brought to Atlanta for safekeeping some time since.

Change of Venue Granted.

When the time for their trial came, Governor Slaton asked the presiding judge of Jefferson county to bring to bear the legislative act which automatically gave a change of venue to the trio. This was done and the men were brought here for trial.

Officials of Jefferson county took the witness stand on Monday and told of obtaining confessions from each of the defendants. The confessions told a horrible tale of the killing of Mrs. Irby, wife of a well-known planter. The negroes beat out her brains with an ax.

An attempt on the part of the attorneys for the negroes was made to show that the confessions were secured improperly.

The negroes were represented, by appointment, by W. L. Phillips, J. R. Phillips, Frank Hardeman, all of Jefferson county, and Judge Spencer Atkinson, of Atlanta, who, upon the request of Judge Ben Hill, summed up for the trio of defendants. The speech of Judge Atkinson was effective and masterful.

The state was represented by Solicitor R. Lee Moore, of Jefferson county; Solicitor General Dorsey, of Fulton county, and State Representative Robert N. Hardeman.

Jury in the Case.

The jury in the case was composed of G. W. Faver, H. G. Thompson, G. T. Tumlin, H. P. White, J. R. Jackson, J. A. McDonald, W. P. McKee, J. B. Stanford, H. L. Smith, Lane Mitchell, W. R. Jones and C. E. Helmer.

Throughout the trial, which lasted from 9 o'clock Monday until after 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the trio of defendants sat with heads bowed, in a semi-circle, just behind their counsel, seemingly unaware that their lives were at stake. As Judge Hill charged the jury, one of the negroes went sound asleep.

The negroes were taken back to the Tower, where they will be sent to the scaffold on the morning of February 6.

ANGRY BUCK DEER BREAKS ALL BONES IN KEEPER'S BODY

New York, January 12.—With virtually every bone in his body broken and his lungs punctured by the horns of a large, vicious buck deer, Patrick Horan, for the last fourteen years head keeper of the deer preserve on the Islip (Long Island) estate of the late Edwin Hawley, was found dead tonight in the inclosure in which the animal was kept. The deer had gored Horan many times. Nobody saw the attack.

5,000 Men Resume Work.

Wheeling, W. Va., January 12.—The Riverside plant of United States Steel corporation resumed operations in full today after an idleness of four months. Approximately 5,000 men are affected.

WILSON TO SHOVE ANTI-TRUST BILLS THROUGH CONGRESS

President Feels That in Working for Correction of Trust Evils He's Carrying Out Baltimore Platform.

RURAL CREDIT QUESTION ALSO TO BE SETTLED

Both Anti-Trust and Rural Credit Legislation Considered by Wilson During His Stay at Pass Christian.

On Board President Wilson's Special Train, Charlotte, N. C., January 12.—Anti-trust and rural credit legislation are considered of paramount and immediate importance by President Wilson. Though the influences of the executive were exerted in behalf of other measures as well during the present session of congress, he indicated in a conversation with the correspondents aboard his train today that in the immediate future these two subjects would occupy the forum of public attention.

The president showed clearly that these reforms in particular had been on his mind during his vacation at Pass Christian, Miss. Besides sketching his trust message, which will be characteristically brief, the president carefully studied the report of the commission that went abroad to study rural credits.

Likes the Fletcher Bill.

He examined also a bill on the subject prepared by Senator Fletcher, chairman of the commission, and said that he had just written the Florida senator asking him to confer with him about it at the white house when he got back. The president remarked that the bill seemed sound in the main, though he thought some additions ought to be made.

In giving his attention now to the trust and rural credit questions the president feels that he is carrying out not only the promises made in the party platform but is fulfilling at the same time an informal understanding with members of the senate and house who sought to bring the subject of rural credits into the discussion of the currency bill and to prohibit interlocking directorates and other trust evils by provisions in both the currency and tariff bills. It was only after the agreement among democratic leaders that all phases of the trust and rural credit problems would be handled separately that they were then eliminated from consideration.

While conferences on these questions have not all been arranged, the president is planning to devote the remainder of the week to consultations with members of his cabinet and leaders in congress and will read his trust message to a joint session next Monday or Tuesday.

Greeted by Great Crowds.

The train ride during the day was a restful one for the president and his family. Few stops were made, but at many of the towns and cities the special was run through slowly while the president stood on the back platform and waved his hat in response to the cheers. At Calhoun, S. C., the old homestead of John C. Calhoun, 800 cadets of Clemson college swarmed around the end of the train and gave Mr. Wilson a noisy demonstration.

The president will arrive in Washington early tomorrow, looking better than he has in several months. His complexion has a ruddy, healthful glow, and his step is brisk and springy, and he goes back to his duties at the white house in much better physical condition than he was when the strain of pre-inauguration activities in New Jersey brought him to Washington last March somewhat fatigued.

"I have had a real vacation," he told members of his party today with an air of keen satisfaction.

Wilson's Views on Speaking.

Charlotte, N. C., January 12.—President Wilson told a delegation of Charlotte citizens that he did not think the president of the United States should make speeches "just to be speaking," or upon questions which were not of broad national interest. He promised, however, to take under consideration an invitation extended to him by the delegation to deliver an address at the celebration here of the signing of the Declaration of Mecklenburg, to be held on May 20, next.

The delegation, by special appointment, saw President Wilson aboard his special train when it arrived here. They were assured by him that the historical interest of the local celebration would give the invitation more weight than a mere request to be present at a holiday occasion. He said, however, that he could make no definite engagements for so remote a date.

FORMER CANDIDATE FOR LEGISLATURE GOES TO CHAINGANG

Statesboro, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—R. Lester Johnson, who was last year in the race for representative from this county, has been sent under a guard to work out a six months' sentence. He was convicted on a charge of assault and battery. He is said to have beat up Cage Groover, an aged man.

Johnson was also given a trial for lunacy and adjudged sane. The jury was composed of men who have known him all their lives. He maintained that he did not recognize any of them. Johnson was let out on bond following his conviction, and went to Savannah, where he was arrested Saturday and brought back.

THE REAL VICTIM!

RAID ALLEGED DRUG DEN IN CENTER OF ATLANTA

Three Young Men Put Under Arrest in Room in Carrollton Apartments.

A raid by plain clothes men upon an alleged drug and cocaine den in an apartment house in the heart of the downtown business district furnished excitement for a large crowd of theatergoers leaving the theaters last night shortly after 10:30 o'clock.

Three prisoners—all well-dressed white men—were carried to police headquarters, together with a modern assortment of drugs and injection apparatus, valued at several hundred dollars. Charges of drug trafficking were docketed against them.

Soon after 10 o'clock last night Plain Clothes Policemen Fortson and Green—who had been tipped off to the den—secreted themselves in a dark corner of the rear hallway of 10 Carnegie way, the Carrollton apartments. They watched a number of young men enter the room of B. O. Akeridge, a soda dispenser, remain for a while, then depart.

Upon the appearance of A. J. Fitzgibbon, also a soda dispenser, of 18 Boulevard place, and Earl Ainsley, aged 24 years, of 23 Garnett street, the policemen slipped quietly behind them and entered. Several youths were lounging about the room, which was elaborately appointed and dimly lighted.

In the cabinet were found a large amount of cocaine, morphine and other drugs. In another receptacle were found an assortment of hypodermic syringes and other drug apparatus.

Ainsley, Akeridge and Fitzgibbon were put under arrest. The others were subpoenaed as witnesses.

The prisoners would not talk. They will be put on trial before Recorder Broylesthis afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

FOR HIS WIFE AND BABE HE STOLE OVER $9,000

But Express Clerk Saxty Was Soon Caught and the Money Recovered.

St. Louis, January 12.—Clayton M. Saxty accused, of robbing the Wells-Fargo express office at Fort Smith, Ark., of a package containing more than $9,000 in gold and currency yesterday, was arrested here tonight with $5,714 of the money in his possession.

Saxty was arrested in the Union Station when about to board a train for Chicago.

At the police station he admitted the theft. Saxty is 22 years old and was employed as a clerk in the office of the express company. The clew to his flight from Fort Smith came from a newly-purchased motorcycle, which he abandoned on the Arkansas river bank near Van Buren, Ark., to take a train for St. Louis.

Saxty signed a receipt for the money Sunday noon, while he was alone in the office. The package came from a St. Louis bank and was intended for the payroll of a mining company at Jennylind, Ark. Saxty took all the gold and currency and left only a small amount of silver.

The absconding clerk told the police here he first put the money in the company's safe, but when he returned to his home for dinner and ralized the many needs of his 18-year-old wife and their child, he returned to the office and took the money.

WE MUST GO BACK AND TRUST IN GOD, SAYS MARSHALL

Washington, January 12.—Infidelity and discussion from the pulpit of the latest bits of scandal were scored by Vice President Marshall, in an address at the annual praise service of the Woman's Missionary society here last night. He declared he would rather have the American people bow down before an image than acknowledge no God at all, adding that if the republic is to endure "We must go back and place our faith in God.

"What this country needs," said the vice president, "is not laws, police nor large armies. It needs men with backbone, men willing to stand for something and men who don't try only to make money. I say make money, and I would like to make all that I possibly could, but I would have it made so cleanly that your babies could cut their teeth on it and never be polluted.

WOMEN ARE KEPT BAD BY "HIDEOUS STRIPES"

Therefore the Convict Stripe Will Be Eliminated From N. Y. City Prisons.

New York, January 12.—The convict stripe will be eliminated from city prisons during the administration of Mayor Mitchel, according to Dr. Katherine B. Davis, corrections commissioner, who made her first visit to Blackwell's Island today. The only woman member of the mayor's cabinet was especially indignant because women prisoners have to wear striped garments.

"You can't reform a woman in bed ticking," she said. "I believe strongly in the psychology of clothes. A woman always has more more self-respect when she has on her best clothes. Half the degradation and sullenness of the prisoners is the result of their hideous stripes and shapeless garments."

Gingham, cut in modern styles, will displace the present material worn by women prisoners, Dr. Davis said, and other than striped clothes will be furnished the men.

Stripes and Brutality Go.

Baltimore, Md., January 12.—Close on the abolition at the Maryland Home of Correction of the striped suit, flogging, "cuffing up" and solitary confinement comes the announcement that soon a moving picture outfit will be established in the institution.

Recently a phonograph was given to the prison and "good" prisoners are allowed during recreation hours and on Sundays to listen to the instrument. The improvement in conduct among the 400 or more men and women has been so marked that Superintendent Langford and the board of managers decided to give them the "movies."

The next step in reform will be the establishment of a school.

QUEEN MARY HELD TO HER UMBRELLA AND WAS BARRED

London, January 12.—Because she refused to give up her umbrella, the queen of England was refused admittance to Norwich Castle Museum today. Queen Mary was accompanied by the bishop of Norwich.

As it was a private visit, no notification had been given. The attendant, failing to recognize the queen, studbornly refused to admit her with the umbrella, which she, with equal stubbornness, refused to surrender.

The bishop intervened, but without effect, until he disclosed the identity of the royal visitor. Profuse apologies followed, and the queen entered bearing her umbrella in triumph.

"MOTHER" JONES HELD BY TROOPS

Noted Labor Agitator Arrested on Her Return to Trinidad—She Is Being Held Incommunicado.

Trinidad, Colo., January 12.—"Mother" Mary Jones, strike leader, who was deported from the southern Colorado coal fields January 4 by the militia, feturned to Trinidad this morning from Denver. As soon as her presence was learned by the military authorities she was arrested and taken to the San Rafael hospital, where she was held incommunicado.

"Mother" Jones left the train at the outskirts of Trinidad and later appeared at a local hotel. She was arrested by a detail of state troops, hurried out of the hotel, placed in an automobile and whirled through the streets with a cavalry escort galloping at full speed in front and behind the machine.

Several hundred coal mine strikers lined the streets and cheered wildly, while "Mother" Jones waved her hand in response.

Governor Ammons Defends Arrest.

Denver, Colo., January 12.—Governor Ammons tonight issued a statement assuming full responsibility for the arrest of "Mother" Mary Jones by military authorities in Colorado, and declared she would be held until such time as she saw fit to give her promise to leave the strike zones of the state. He said:

"'Mother' Jones came to this state early in the days of the labor strife and by incendiary speeches stirred up rioting that resulted in bloodshed. She finally was persuaded to quit, when threatened with arrest, and leave the state, but on her return she defied the militia, state officials and the governor of the state.

"She was given military escort from the strike region and told not to return. Immediately on her arrival in Denver she announced she would go back to Trinidad. Her whole attitude was one of defiance.

"The state is paying $5,000 a day for the preservation of order in the strike regions, and I don't propose that she shall make that expenditure useless. Her attorney will be given permission to visit her so she can file a habeas corpus petition if she so desires, and I want her to do so.

"Simply because she is a woman, and an old one at that, is no excuse for her actions, and is no reason why she should be permitted to stir up trouble. She will be discharged whenever she announces her willingness to leave the strike region.

"I assume full responsibility for her arrest."

An Outrage, Says White.

Indianapolis, Ind., January 12.—"It's an outrage against the constitutional liberty of our people," declared John R. White, president of the United Mine Workers of America, when told of the arrest today of "Mother" Mary Jones at Trinidad, Colo.

Mr. White said he had telegraphed protests against "Mother" Jones' arrest to President Wilson, Secretary of Labor Wilson and Governor Ammons, of Colorado.

SEVEN PERSONS FREEZE TO SAVE RAILWAY FARE

Jauer, Prussian Silesia, Germany, January 12.—A Russian family of seven persons who had been employed in the vicinity of this town, were frozen to death in a blizzard today while tramping back to Russia in order to save the railroad fare.

$5,000,000 ASKED FROM CITY'S PURSE; $200,000 TO SPEND

Many Special Appropriations Sought in Addition to Regular Sums Needed to Maintain the Departments.

ADDITIONAL $200,000 EXPECTED DURING YEAR

Chairman Humphrey and Mayor Woodward Opposed to Appropriating This Until June Sheet Is Made.

The total amount of money in the city's tentative finance sheet, for all purpose, is $4,700,000, according to Graham West, chief clerk to Comptroller Goldsmith.

Finance Committee Chairman W. G. Humphrey stated yesterday afternoon, at the close of the first meeting of the committee, that a conservative estimate places the amount of money available for appropriations over the maintenance of departments, at about $200,000. About $200,000 additional is expected from increases in revenue, but Mayor Woodward and Chairman Humphrey are opposed to appropriating any part of the increase until June, when the amount will be accurately known.

$5,000,000 Is Asked.

More than $5,000,000 will be needed over the amount the city actually has to appropriate to take care of all the demands which will be made upon the committee.

Whitehall street property owners asked the committee for approximately $129,000 to complete the regrading and paving of that thoroughfare, and to make necessary changes in the grades of intersecting streets.

Councilman Jesse M. Wood, chairman of the claims committee, stated Monday that a cursory investigation made by himself and other members of council has convinced him that damage claims which will pile up against the city on the two blocks between Mitchell street Trinity avenue alone will be heavy. Chairman Wood explained that he cannot, at this time, make an estimate of the damage.

West Mitchell street property owners asked the committee for enough money to continue the improvement, the amount to be determined by estimates from the construction department.

West Peachtree and Spring streets will ask the city for large amounts, said to be in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Want Money for Sewers.

Councilman Claude Ashley and Alderman Albert Thomas, of the Fourth ward, asked the committee for $85,000 for sewer work in that section of the city. They asked for $5,205 for the Butler street sewer and $7,900 for the Highland avenue sewer. The remainder will be used in closing the open sewers, and building new ones.

President Fisher, of the cemetery commission, asked for $25,000 to buy 93 acres of land for a new cemetery.

Smoke Inspector Poole asked for $3,600 more than was appropriated for his department last year. He wants an assistant at $1,800 and two boiler inspectors at $1,200, and $600 for equipment.

Forsyth street wants $30,000 for improvements which will be necessary for grade changes.

The sanitary department, through Chief Jentzen, asks for $425,000 or about $15,000 more than the department received last year.

President Mathison, of Tech, asked for $3,000 for additional instructors, and money to purchase 2,000 cubic feet of crushed stone for the erection of a power plant building.

The $30,000 asked for Forsyth street is for regrading and grade changes, and constitutes a part of the general regrading scheme of Whitehall.

Raps Slaughterhouse Inspectors.

Councilman C. W. Smith, chairman of the tax committee, who also occupies a place as vice chairman of the finance committee, rapped the two slaughterhouse inspectors when Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, asked for an appropriation to employ a veterinarian to inspect cattle.

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Director.

He declared that he will oppose voting for an appropriation unless the city employs men who are better qualified than the two inspectors now on duty. He said that the inspectors walk through the slaughter pens without apparently caring or knowing what sort of meat they are to inspect.

Dr. Kennedy asked for $1,500 for two nurses for the department. He said that if the committee will give the money the department will be able to save 20 per cent of the babies who die every year in Atlanta.

Statistics of the health department compiled on Monday show that 291 white babies and 255 negro babies died during the year.

"The cause of the death of so many babies is ignorance of parents and attendants at the time of birth, and a lack of knowledge of how to feed them when they begin to grow," Dr. Kennedy said.

Asks Child Welfare Bureau.

Dr. Kennedy made an earnest appeal for the establishment of a child welfare bureau in connection with the city health department.

The tax assessors, through C. D. Meador, asked for $900 additional for a bookkeeper, an adding machine at a cost of $175, and a map of the city at a cost of $250.

City Clerk Walter Taylor asked for an increase for one of his clerks from $1,200 to $1,400 per annum.

City Electrician Turner asked for less money than he did last year. He asked for an increase in salary for his assistant and for his stenographer.

City Marshal Fuller asked that the salaries of weighers be increased from $600 to $900 per annum.

The committee will hold meetings every day, devoting part of the time to hearing the wants of the public and a part of the time for the department heads.

TWO WHITE MEN SHOT IN ARRESTING NEGRO

Bailiff Harmon, of Canton, May Die and Another White Man Loses Arm.

Canton, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—In a pistol duel in Salacoa district, this county, last Saturday night between Bailiff A. V. Harmon and a negro, Harmon was mortally wounded and another white man so severely wounded that it was necessary to amputate his arm.

Bailiff Harmon was attempting to arrest the negro and had deputized the other man to assist him, when the negro opened fire on both of them with deadly effect. Harmon's physician says he will not live.

AMERICUS OFFICES OF SWIFT & CO. DAMAGED BY FIRE

Americus, Ga., January 12.—(Special.) The Americus offices and storage warehouse of Swift & Co., packers, were seriously damaged by an early morning blaze, started, supposedly, by rats and matches. A considerable quantity of case goods and other merchandise was damaged by fire and water. The loss is approximately $800 to $1,000 to building and merchandise.

KILLED ON TRESTLE BY COAST LINE TRAIN

Jesup, Ga., January 12.—Atlantic Coast Line train No. 21 struck and killed a man at Morgan's lake this afternoon as he was walking toward Savannah. Stepping aside on one of the projecting piers of the trestle, the man allowed the engine and tender to pass, then suddenly stepping back on the ties the steps of the baggage coach struck him, knocking him backwards to the ground. The train was stopped and the unconscious man picked up. He died a few minutes later. A search of the pockets, through letters and other papers, identified the man as J. C. Brown, of Ohio.

To Bridge St. Andrew's Bay.

Washington, January 12.—Representative Wilson, of Florida, today introduced a bill to authorize the construction of a bridge by the Birmingham, Columbia and St. Andrews railroad across the navigable waters of St. Andrews bay, at or near Grassey point, on North bay.

Details of Spring Street Grading Completed--Hearing Before Finance Committee This Morning.

With a request for only $50,000 to start work on Spring street, a committee in charge of working out the details of the improvement, will appear before the finance committee of council at 10 o'clock, Tuesday morning.

On the committee is represented a number of Atlanta's most aggressive citizens. They are Morris Brandon, Carroll Payne, Hugh Richardson, Frank Rice, John J. Woodside, John R. Smith, W. J. Davis, A. S. Taylor and G. A. Martin.

The committee has announced that all the details for carrying out of the work have been completed. The county will start grading in a few days in that section between Seventeenth and Nineteenth streets, and will work toward Brookwood, and, while the men are at work, the school lot at Eighteenth street will be graded.

The committee employed Hall Bros., expert engineers, to map out a plan. The engineers have made a report to the committee, and a petition which will contain the most salient features of the engineers' report will be filed with the city.

Spring street now extends from Marietta street to Fourteenth street. Its width from Marietta street to Carnegie way is 50 feet. Its width from Carnegie way to Simpson street is 60 feet. Its width from Simpson street to Fourteenth street is 50 feet.

Proposed Extension.

It is proposed to extend Spring street from Fourteenth street to its intersection with Peachtree street at Brookwood, making this new portion 60 feet wide, and widening the existing portion to 60 feet, with the possible exception of the portion between Marietta street and Carnegie way. It is proposed to give the street an extra width where it intersects with Peachtree street, and an extra width where it intersects with Cain street and Carnegie way. These funnel-shaped entrances at both ends of the street will greatly facilitate the rapid movement of traffic.

It is also proposed to improve the grade of the street; this being, in fact, the primary and most important part of the project. The grade worked out by Hall Bros. is good enough for the purpose for which the street is designed—namely, the relief of automobile and other congestion on Peachtree street—and is practical in cost and does not seriously damage property along the street.

Grades Sought.

The maximum grade proposed is 4½ per cent, for a distance of 1,100 feet from he summit of Tenth street to Fourteenth street, and from Fourteenth street to Sixteenth street the grade continues down at a lower percentage, thus giving a gradual approach to the maximum grade. The next greatest grade is 4 per cent, from Baker street doyn to Hunnicutt street, and 4 per cent from Hunnicutt street up to Baltimore place.

It is proposed for the property for widening to be acquired by donation or purchase, for the necessary house changes to be made, and for the curbing to be reset and the sidewalks to be relaid. It is proposed to lay a temporary macadam pavement for use until the street has settled, and for this macadam then to be used as the base for a permanent pavement, to be laid later.

Maps and profiles, estimates of cost, etc., are all on file in the office of Hall Bros., third floor Peters building.

SIX BOYS PAROLED BY COMMISSIONERS

The county commissioners, at a meeting Monday, on motion of Commissioner Winn, instructed the superintendent of the Fulton County Industrial Farm to parole the following boys now held at that institution: Seth Pharr, Arthur Meiner, Henry Perkerson, Leonard Hudson, Ernest Roberts and Guy Wallace.

BRIDGE SOON READY ON OGEECHEE RIVER

Statesboro, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—After a delay of some months it is reported here that the Screven county authorities have begun the work on the approaches to the steel structure spanning the Ogeechee river at Dover.

The bridge has been completed some time, and Bulloch county has had its approaches completed some time, but owing to lack of work on the Screven side the bridge could not be used. The completion of the bridge will be good news to not only authorities, but to the merchants of Dover, as they expect to draw considerable trade from along the river.

A steel structure has also been built and has been in use for a long time across the Ogeechee at Rocky ford, Bulloch and Screven counties sharing equally the expense of building the bridges.

INSPECT BRUNSWICK FOR LIGHTHOUSE SITE

Brunswick, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Secretary Weatherly, of the Brunswick Board of Trade, was in receipt today of a telegram from Washington announcing that Assistant Secretary Sweet, of the department of commerce, and George R. Putman, commissioner of lighthouses, will spend next Thursday here looking over Brunswick's harbor in connection with a new location for the headquarters of the sixth lighthouse district, now at Charleston.

A fight is now on for the headquarters between Wilmington, N. C.; Charleston, Savannah, Brunswick, Fernandina and Jacksonville. Representatives from all of the ports have been given hearings before the committee in Washington, and Secretary Sweet and Commissioner Putnam will now make a personal visit to all of the ports to see just what they have to offer in port facilities.

FREIGHT WRECK DELAYS TRAFFIC ON SEABOARD

Rochelle, Ga., January 12.—(Special.) Seaboard fast freight, No. 82, from Montgomery to Savannah, was wrecked at 11 o'clock this morning three miles east of Rochelle. Five cars were torn up. Passenger trains will be delayed until about 8 o'clock this evening, when the wreck will be cleared. No one was hurt.

DECATUR TRADE BOARD DIVIDES YEAR'S WORK

The Decatur Board of Trade met Monday night and organized into five executive departments, with men at their heads as follows: The department of public affairs, W. H. S. Hamilton; department of organization of affairs, E. H. Wilson; department of publicity, John A. Montgomery; department of business development, W. B. Gibson; department of agriculture, G. S. Candler.

W. J. Dabney, president of the board, and H. G. Hastings, first vice president, will co-operate with all the departments.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing Atlanta's plan for the regional bank of the southeast.

COLONEL HUFF IS ILL AT HIS MACON HOME

Former Mayor and Man Responsible for Speer Probe, Kept Illness From Own Family—Is 88.

Macon, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Colonel W. A. Huff, 88 years of age and for many years mayor of Macon, is in a desperate condition at his home in this city and there are grave fears among his friends that he will not recover. Colonel Huff has been confined to his bed for three weeks and the fact that he let no one know of his condition for fully a month after his illness started has made it harder for the physicians to combat the trouble.

Colonel Huff is the man responsible for the investigation of the official conduct of Judge Emory Speer, of the United States district court, which starts here on January 19. His estate has been in the hands of the bankruptcy court for over fourteen years and only a year ago he was cited for contempt of court as the result of a letter written to Judge Speer and delivered to the jurist at his home. Though found guilty of the charge, Colonel Huff has never been sentenced by Judge W. I. Grubb, who presided.

Good Memory Caught Burglars.

Macon, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Last Wednesday night the Parmalee store, on Second street, was robbed of a large quantity of automobile accessories. Lieutenant Davis had seen some boys hanging around the store. Two of the boys were sitting in the courtroom today when Lieutenant Davis spied them. He conducted them into his office and shortly afterward the boys admitted their part in the robbery and implicated two other youths.

All four of the boys, none of whom is over 13 years of age, are now behind the bars. They are Ernest Randall, Willie Howell, Jim Howell and Ray Corbett, all white.

Would Raise Macon Rate.

Macon, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Officials of the Macon Railway and Light company and the Georgia Public Service corporation, on the one hand, and City Attorney Walter DeFore on the other, are fast getting their data in shape for the hearing before the railroad commission in Atlanta on Wednesday of this week.

Both companies have filed petitions for authority to increase their rates from 7½ cents to 11 cents per kilowatt hour, and it is said they have gathered a mass of figures from all parts of the country to back up their contention that rates in Macon are too low. A number of the representatives of the A. B. Leach company, in New York, are here for the purpose of attending the hearing and to assist Attorney Roland Ellis, counsel for the company, in putting their claims before the commission.

A committee from the Macon Chamber of Commerce is to be on hand to assist City Attorney DeFore.

Macon to Get 1,000 People.

Macon, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Announcement has been made that the National Culvert and Bridge Works, of Terre Haute, Ind., will remove its plant from that city to Macon.

The new factory will employ 200 skilled workmen, and will mean an increase in the population of Macon of 1,000 people, all of the workmen being married men, who will bring their families here from Indiana.

LOVE QUARREL LEADS TO SUICIDE ATTEMPT

Waycross, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Harvey Herrington, aged 21, son of a prominent farmer, living near Millwood, in Ware county, is in a critical condition tonight at a local hospital suffering from what is believed to be a self-inflicted wound. Early today Herrington is said to have used a pistol in a suicide effort, the bullet entering his body just above the heart. Despondency following a quarrel in a love affair is reported as the cause for the deed.

COUNTY BRIDGES WILL GET NEW PAINT COATS

The work of scraping and repainting many of the county bridges will begin at once following the awarding of a contract for such work to the Mackle-Crawford Construction company on Monday at a meeting of the county commissioners.

The following bridges will be scraped and repainted: Johnson's Ferry bridge, Power's ferry bridge, Bolton bridge, Mayson and Turner's bridge, Garrett's bridge, Pace's ferry bridge and Nance's creek bridge.

Advance Models of Corsets Are Arriving!

The last few days have brought many NEW corsets, and by new we mean advance styles, models you will be demanding as the season grows into spring.

It is our pleasure to have them ready now, that the woman requiring a new corset may have one that is indeed new.

We speak of—

The P. N. Corset at $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00, of superb materials, graceful in line, neatly finished. Remarkable and unusual values at their prices.

The La Vida Corset in the low bust "boneless" models that have the call now.

The Madame Irene Corset, the American-made corset that is most Parisian—new models in tricot, euedine, coutil and silk batiste. At $5.00 to $8.50.

The Frolaset Corset, the most excellent of the front lace corsets; elastic bands and elastic gores impart to the figure that smooth back that is so desired.

The Nemo Corsets, in new models. One of the notable successes is the Duplex self-reducing, at $3.00. It effectively helps the woman of stout figure.

There is a demonstration of the Koh-i-noor Dress Fastener going on in our Notion Department that will prove of interest and benefit to the woman who is tired of bothering with hooks and eyes.

GRACE LIES AT REST IN NEWNAN CEMETERY

Quiet Services Marked Farewell to Figure in Sensation. Mrs. Grace Silent.

Newnan, Ga., January 12.—(Special.) Friends, members of his family and the usual throng of the idle curious followed the body of Eugene H. Grace this afternoon to its final resting place in the family lot in the Newnan cemetery. The services were held at the home, where for nearly a year the man who finally died from a pistol shot had battled in vain to live and recover. His last words, when death came Sunday night late, were that his wife had fired the bullet that paralyzed him and finally caused his end.

A mass of beautiful floral offerings from friends both in Newnan and from other places was banked around the coffin. Many friends, knowing the wish of the family for a quiet funeral, showed their respect by floral offerings alone.

Simple Funeral Services.

The funeral service was that which might have been given any other man. Out of respect to the wishes of the family that nothing be said which would cause notoriety, the two preachers who conducted the services made little, if any, references to the tragedy and the sensational charges and countercharges arising from it.

Rev. H. L. Edmondson, of the Methodist church, conducted the services. He was assisted by Rev. J. E. Honnoh. The pallbearers were all friends of Grace and of his family, who had stuck by the man through thick and thin. Their names are: J. T. Carpenter, Clifford B. Glover, Ben S. Orr, R. F. Herring, William M. Askew, J. H. Powell, E. G. Cole and T. J. Fisher, the latter of whom accompanied Grace to Atlanta when he was carried on his cot into the courtroom, where Mrs. Daisy Grace was freed from the charge of shooting him.

MRS. GRACE IS SILENT AT PHILADELPHIA HOME

Philadelphia, January 12.—Mrs. Daisy Ulrich Opie Grace, whose husband, Eugene H. Grace, died early today at Newnan, Ga., from a bullet wound inflicted nearly two years ago, declined to have anything to say regarding his death. Mrs. Grace could not be seen at her home in West Philadelphia, but sent out word to inquirers that she would not make any statement at present. Mrs. Grace has been living here since she was acquitted of the charge of the attempted murder of her husband.

MORTUARY

I. E. Lindler, Jonesboro.

Jonesboro, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—News was received in Jonesboro today of the death of I. E. Lindler, Sunday night at his home in the Panhandle district of Clayton county. Mr. Lindler was 77 years of age, and had lived in the county all of his life—forty years at the place where he died. He served through the civil war. He was a brother-in-law of Mayor W. S. Archer, of Jonesboro, who visited him Sunday. Mr. Lindler said to him at that time that he did not have an enemy in the world. The funeral and interment will be at Mt. Pleasant church in Henry county, Tuesday.

C. C. Holmes, Madison.

Madison, Ga., January 12.—(Special.) C. C. Holmes, who was formerly a merchant at Rome, Macon and Dawson, and who died last week at his home in Minneapolis, was brought here for burial by his sister, Mrs. Ben Harris. The burial took place last Thursday at Bethany, five miles east of Madison. Mr. Holmes was well known in Georgia. Twenty years ago he married Miss Eloise Wardlaw, of Rome, who died eight years ago.

Miss Alice Payne.

Miss Alice Payne, aged 20 years, died Monday morning at 7 o'clock at a private sanitarium. She is survived by two brothers, C. A. Payne, of the city fire department, and W. A. Payne; by four sisters, Misses Katie, Annie and Tommie Lou Payne, and Mrs. C. S. Singleton. Funeral will be held from Central Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

S. J. Flournoy, Eufaula.

Eufaula, Ala., January 12.—(Special.) Numerous friends of the family and relatives attended the funeral services held today for S. J. Flournoy, one of the most prominent men of the city who died Saturday. Rev. T. H. Johnson, formerly rector of St. James, now of All Saints', Mobile, officiated.

Susie Quick.

Susie Quick, aged 25 years, died Sunday evening at 11 o'clock at her residence on Peyton road. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Quick, and four sisters. Funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Center Hill Presbyterian church. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

F. T. Garner.

F. T. Garner, aged 27 years, died Sunday afternoon at Fort Worth, Texas. He was a railroad engineer and resided at 204 Central avenue, Atlanta. The body will arrive in the city, accompanied by his wife, Thursday morning at 12:40 o'clock, and funeral arrangements will be made later.

John T. Wilson.

John T. Wilson, aged 77 years, died Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Confederate Soldiers' Home. The body was taken to Harry G. Poole's chapel, and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

W. H. Darrett.

Funeral services or W. H. Darrett were held at 11 o'clock Monday morning at Poole's chapel. Mr. Darrett died early Sunday morning at a private sanitarium. The body was sent to Anniston, Ala., for burial.

Mrs. Ida B. Cross.

The funeral of Mrs. Ida B. Cross, who died Sunday night at 8 o'clock at a private sanitarium, will take place at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon from the residenme, 728 North Boulevard. Interment will be in West View cemetery.

Brunswick City Officers.

Brunswick, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—City council tonight elected all officers for the present year, and while there was opposition to one or two of the present incumbents, practically the entire corps was re-elected, the changes made being of minor importance. The officers elected were the following:

Chief of police, A. L. Owens; city treasurer, W. B. Fain; chief of the fire department, J. H. Harrison; assistant chief, Robert Lindsey; city engineer, J. L. Zackery; assistant chief of police, Jerre Wilchar; superintendent of sanitation, C. G. Goodbread.

J. W. MANGRAM'S CASE COMES UP NEXT WEEK

Efforts Will Be Made to Annul Charges Against Griffin Mill Man.

Griffin, Ga., January 12.—(Special.) Before Spalding superior court, with Judge R. T. Daniel, of the Flint river circuit, on the bench next week, the case of J. W. Mangham, accused of defrauding a number of the stockholders of his mill, will be reopened in an effort to annul the charges against him. J. W. Mangham is a brother of J. J. Mangham, who was convicted on similar charges and sentenced a short time ago to serve five years at the state farm.

Another case on the docket, which is well filled up, is that of J. M. Bassett, indicted for the murder of Charles Roberts, a negro. Bassett is said to have killed the negro two years ago on H. P. Eady's farm, near Griffin. It is generally expected here that Bassett will be acquitted.

NEW CURRENCY PLAN IS PROVING POPULAR

Washington, January 12.—More than 1,200 banks now have applied for membership in the new federal reserve system and scores of letters containing legal applications from other banks reached the treasury department today. Every section of the country is represented on the list.

Served Five Years as Safeblower and Now Holds Responsible Job

Lawrenceville, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—John Wilson, who broke jail here several years ago, and who ended a five-year sentence about eighteen months ago, returned to Lawrenceville today with a record that few men who have been convicted as safe blowers have ever made. He came on a visit to pay his respects to friends here and to those who befriended him while in jail. He brought records to show that for the past twelve months he has held a $100 per month job in Spartanburg, S. C., and stands high in the regard of his employer.

He made no secret of his past record when he applied for a job on getting out of prison, and he declares that he intends to keep the confidence of his employer. He is still a young man and was the youngest of the trio of safe blowers caught at Carl, Ga., in 1904. The other two were John Cooper and "Dutch" Williams.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, when you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

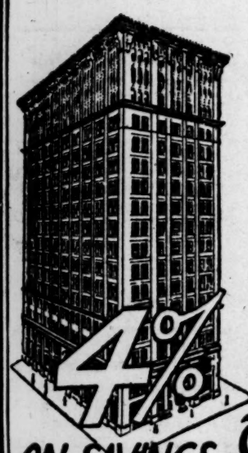

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

HEADACHY, COSTIVE, BILIOUS---"CASCARETS"

Liver and Bowels Are Clogged. Clean Them Tonight! Feel Bully!

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath—always trace them to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

NEW EXPRESS RATES TO POINTS OUT OF ATLANTA

On February 1 the Southern Express company will put into effect the rates and practices recently prescribed by the interstate commerce commission, which will result in a very material reduction in express charges, the reduction in many cases being as much as 50 per cent, and as a whole average 25 per cent.

As a matter of general information, there is shown here a table of charges under both the old and new rates between Atlanta and various points throughout the country on shipments of the first class weighing from 5 to 50 pounds, also 100 pound rates.

All rates are based on the pound, packages of less than five pounds being proportionately cheaper, and those between the scale above indicated being proportionate.

The zone and block system. The country is first divided into five zones. Zone 1 taking in the eastern states, zone 2 the southern states, zone 3 the middle western states, zone 4 the Rocky mountain states, and zone 5 the Pacific coast states. These zones are then reduced to blocks, each block being 50 miles square.

In this manner, all inconsistencies that may have existed in the past in rate constructions have been wiped out, and the rates not only simplified and made understandable, even to the novice, but every section or hamlet in the land is put on an equal footing. In other words, there are no inequalities in the new rates.

All as One Company.

Another matter of interest and importance to the shipper, is the fact that the new rates apply to and from all points in the United States regardless of what particular express company handles the shipment. So far as the public is concerned, all lines of demarkation as between the various express companies have been wholly obliterated and they are now one homogeneous whole.

The express companies join into a single unit of service over all the numerous railroad lines of the country and thereby enable the shipper to deal with one carrier, avoid delays to goods at junction points, as well as damage in handling, and in various other ways facilitate the quick transportation of millions of shipments entrusted to their care.

The Southern Express company accepts the order of the interstate commerce commission gracefully and in good faith, and there is no reason to doubt its management will make good their expressed purpose to give the patrons of the company a service that will prove helpful and satisfactory, notwithstanding the tremendous loss in revenue.

As to State Rates.

It is understood that state commissioners have arranged a meeting in Atlanta January 19, to discuss interstate rates, and that W. A. Ryan, solicitor, will represent the interstate commerce commission in the interest of uniform state and interstate rates, the new rates going into effect February 1 applying only to interstate shipments, the state rate remaining unchanged until revised by the state authorities.

GOVERNOR DECLINES TO SUSPEND HIS RULE

Respite Is Denied to Lowndes County Negro Sentenced to Die Friday.

Carrying out a rule which he announced some time ago that he would hear no clemency application which had not previously been acted upon by the prison board, and that he would not grant respites in cases where there had been an opportunity for a hearing before that board, Governor Slaton declined yesterday to grant a respite in the case of George Smith, a negro, who is sentenced to be hanged in Valdosta Friday.

The governor pointed out to the attorney who applied for the respite that there had been ample time in which to present the case to the prison commission since the supreme court passed upon it nearly two months ago. To grant a respite now would mean an extension of the time for the execution of the law for at least six weeks, as the prison commission does not meet again to hear pardon cases until the first Monday in February.

The governor feels that it is an unwarranted interference with the administration of justice by the courts for him to extend the life of a condemned murderer, when the attorneys in the case have allowed to slip by the time when they could have made an appearance before the prison commission.

However, the man has until Friday to live, and the governor agreed to take the case under consideration. Should anything occur to warrant interference outside of the rule between now and then, he will be guided accordingly.

PRISON BOARD WOULD SPARE LIFE OF HALL

Hearing Before Governor Set for Tomorrow — Peculiar Feature of Case.

Commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment was unanimously recommended yesterday by the prison commission in the case of I. B. Hall, who is sentenced to be hanged in Tift county Friday for the murder of Dennis Hall. Though bearing the same name and living in the same house at the time of the killing, Hall was not related to his victim.

As soon as Governor Slaton received notice of the action of the prison commission he fixed Wednesday, January 14, as the day on which he would give a hearing in the case. Prior to this the governor declined to have a commission appointed to examine into Hall's sanity, after sending Dr. Baird, of Atlanta, to examine the man, and receiving a report from the physician that he was sane.

It is a peculiar fact in connection with this case that the only eyewitnesses were the wives of the men involved. Mrs. Dennis Hall, widow of the murdered man, testified for the state at the trial, while Mrs. I. B. Hall, wife of the man on trial, was not allowed to testify. It was largely on the testimony of the former Mrs. Hall, attorneys for the condemned man say, that a conviction was secured.

Both the Halls were prominent in Tift county, and the case has aroused general interest in that section of the state.

Another murder case which the governor has under consideration is that of David McLaughlin, alias Davis, a Laurens county negro. Earl Camp, of Dublin, argued the case before the governor several days ago.

Interrupted by Callers, Burglar Says He Is on Visit; He Loots House

Americus, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—The boldest house-breaker ever operating in Americus, this afternoon entered the residence of Tax Collector J. B. Small, in absence of the family and proceeded to ransack the rooms for valuables.

In response to callers he courteously announced at the front door that he was a visitor at the Small residence and without directing suspicion toward himself. The man was of good appearance, well-dressed, and took his time in selecting any valuables wanted. Two other residences have been robbed in similar manner recently and the police are wondering who the gentlemanly burglar can be.

PICTURE MEN PREPARE FOR NATIONAL MEETING

The executive committee of the Photographers' Association of America, is in Atlanta for the purpose of arranging the details of the thirty-fourth annual convention of the association to be held in this city in the near future. Their first meeting was held Monday morning at the Ansley hotel, and their work of fixing the time and local headquarters of the convention will hold them in the city several days. This assembly of the national photographers here was secured by the Atlanta Convention bureau.

Present at Monday's meeting were: Manley W. Tyree, president of the committee, Raleigh, N. C.; W. H. Towles, first vice president, Washington, D. C.; Homer T. Harden, second vice president, Wichita, Kan.; L. A. Dozer, treasurer, Bucytus, Ohio; Mr. Harris, ex-president, and Mrs. Harris, Washington, D. C.

SAWYER-TOLBERT TRIAL SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

George A. Sawyer and Mrs. Clifford Tolbert, whose sensational arrest on New Year's eve at a well-known downtown hotel by an irate husband caused a two-day sensation, will face Judge Andrew Calhoun, in city court, today. The couple were to have been tried on Monday, but on account of press of court business their cases were put over. Since the arrest the husband, Clifford Tolbert, has filed divorce proceedings.

CENTRAL MAY EXTEND TRACKS IN AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., July 12.—(Special.)—Judge Z. A. Littlejohn, judge of the supreme court southwestern circuit, today rendered decision in injunction proceedings instituted by Harrold Brothers, warehouse men of Americus, against the Central railway and a right to extend its tracks as proposed, but should damage to abutting property on Hampton street result, the owners of such property could seek damages from the defendant corporation.

The city council of Americus had previously granted to the Central railway permission to extend its tracks, a special bill having been passed by the recent general assembly granting to the Americus council such rights. The petitioners for injunction alleged that such track extension would be detrimental to their interests, while other large property owners heartily favor it. An appeal from Judge Littlejohn's decision will be taken by the petitioners for injunction.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

2,107,000 And Going Up

From George II to Woodrow Wilson

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST has been a factor in American life. Established by Benjamin Franklin in the second year of the reign of George II, it began with a circulation of a few hundred copies, most of which were read by Colonists living within a mile or two of the Philadelphia water front.

By the time of the Civil War it had become a national weekly and its editions had grown to 90,000 copies, an unusual circulation for those days.

The Curtis Publishing Company bought the magazine in 1897, when its circulation was at its low-water mark. Since then it has grown at the rate of more than 100,000 copies a year. Its present enormous paid circulation has never been approached at any time or in any country.

Strong Words for Strong Men

ATLANTA Merchants who are efficient in business will pause and investigate the efficiency of their sales departments.

A merchant may have the best stock in Atlanta---a manufacturer may make the best product in the world---but if his sales methods are obsolete, incomplete, inefficient or of short-range, fine goods will avail nothing.

Gentlemen, if The Constitution is not being recognized and used by your sales departments as the predominating advertising medium in this corner of the United States---if your goods are not being exploited in The Constitution you are overlooking and failing to sell the biggest and best part of your market.

Without The Constitution you cannot penetrate, you can only scratch your market. The Constitution goes to every Buying family in the city of Atlanta—it goes to the best people of every walk of life—it is a family institution in practically every home owned by its occupants—it goes home, it stays home, its news, editorial and public service columns and its advertisements all have strong influence in shaping the course of home life.

The value of a newspaper as an advertising medium is gauged by its worth as a newspaper. The best newspaper is the best advertising medium.

The almost unanimous opinion of people everywhere is that The Atlanta Constitution is the best newspaper in Georgia. Of course You take it in your own home. You take it for its strength of character, its cleanliness or for some other good reason. You know it is best.

The people to whom you sell goods have brains made of the same kind of tissue that composes yours. Given the same facts, their brains will think as your brain thinks. If your product is as good as you say it is—if you believe in it enough to use it at home—then good copy in The Constitution is as certain to sell your goods as the sun is to rise.

As a newspaper and an editorial force The Constitution is Constructive, Instructive, Virile and Effective.

As an advertising medium it penetrates deeper into the Buying sec tion of Atlanta than any other advertising medium.

ATLANTA INDORSED FOR FEDERAL BANK

Georgia Practically Solid, and Cities Outside State Now in Race, Favor Gate City as Second Choice.

With the state of Georgia rallying loyally to the support of Atlanta as the logical place for the location of a regional reserve bank to serve the southeastern states, the states of this section are gradually but surely awakening to the realization that Atlanta is the only hope of this section to get a regional bank.

Atlanta has been for years recognized as the center of all business, banking and otherwise, in the southeast. It has, therefore, been counted upon by the organization committee and eastern financiers ever since the passage of the new currency measure as the one best bet for a regional bank for the southeast. Atlanta was chosen above all other cities by the organization committee as a place to sit, and has on all occasions been indorsed by leading financiers before the committee as the logical place for such a bank.

Then Atlanta Would Lose.

All this, however, seems obviously dependent upon the southeastern states being made a regional reserve district. But should this territory, whose business and financial interests are so closely interlocked, be divided into two or more districts, it is apparent that neither Atlanta nor any other southeastern city can hope for the appointment as regional reserve center. Rather will the selection go to New Orleans, on the one hand, and to Richmond, or Washington on the other.

This is the situation the southeast faces.

On Monday there were whisperings which would seem to indicate that a realization of this situation is dawning upon the southeastern states.

Jacksonville is in the race for the appointment as a regional reserve center. From D. B. Tuten, of the First National bank, of Leland, Fla., on Monday came the following communication to the joint committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the Atlanta Clearing House association:

"We think Atlanta is the logical place for the location of the regional bank of the south, and will be glad to assist in any way possible in procuring it."

Atlanta Second Choice.

Chattanooga is in the race. From Chattanooga came the news on Monday that in case of the elimination of Chattanooga, Atlanta has the undivided support of that city. This announcement comes as the result of the statement of the situation by J. A. McCord and J. K. Ottley, representing the Atlanta joint committee, when they addressed the Chattanooga bankers last Saturday.

Representatives of the Atlanta committee have also spoken to the Montgomery bankers, and have set them to thinking seriously on the situation.

Richmond also, it is understood, is not opposing Atlanta, but striving merely to prevent a regional reserve bank from going to Washington. The volume of business of Richmond is acknowledged to be more deserving than that of Washington, and the only object for placing a bank in Washington would be for the purpose of government supervision. It is Richmond's contention, however, that owing to the limited number of banks which will be apportioned, a bank at Richmond would be of greater service to the district than one in Washington. But the chances are that Richmond and Atlanta will not be placed in the same regional reserve district. Even if they were, Richmond would obviously be so far from the center of the district that she could entertain but a forlorn hope of gaining the appointment at the center.

South Carolina Favorable.

By word of mouth came on Monday from South Carolina news that sentiment in that state is largely in favor of Atlanta. Columbia is fighting for the place as regional center, but it is understood that even in Columbia there is much sentiment in Atlanta's favor.

On Monday also came the news from several more Georgia cities pledging formally their support of Atlanta. Among these cities were Waynesboro, Cave Springs, Brooks and Thomson. This makes a total of more than twenty-five Georgia cities now backing Atlanta.

In addition to this, the bankers of other cities which had previously pledged their support, have continued to pour in upon the committee assurances of their support and requests to be commanded in any emergency in which they might be of assistance.

Particularly cordial is a communication received on Monday from W. E. Dunwody, president of the Macon Chamber of Commerce. Says President Dunwody:

"Whenever Macon can be of service to Atlanta or the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce it will be a pleasure.

"There has been some idea of envy on the part of Macon of Atlanta's success. The idea, I can assure you, is without foundation, and we hope to be able to convince you of the fact in the future.

"Macon wishes to co-operate in every way possible with Atlanta. We believe that Macon can be of some assistance to Atlanta, and we know Atlanta can be of great assistance to Macon."

The foregoing paragraphs about sizes up the present situation, and Atlanta's prospects of support. Meanwhile the joint committee is working hard to gain the support of other cities in the southern states.

THROAT Troubles ARE Dangerous

because the swollen glands and inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and impair their healthy action.

Scott's Emulsion stands alone as nature's corrector of throat troubles; its cod liver oil is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue—the glycerine is curative and healing, while the combined emulsion upbuilds the forces to avert the weakening influence which always follow throat troubles.

SCOTT'S EMULSION is best for three important reasons—it relieves the trouble; it prevents a relapse; it is not charged with alcohol or stupefying drugs.

Shun substitutes and insist on Scott's.

ATLANTA PROMISED FREEZING WEATHER

If Prediction of Forecaster Comes True There Will Be Big Drop in Thermometer.

If a weather prediction given out last night holds good until 6 o'clock this morning, Atlanta should by that time be shivering in the midst of 20-degree-above-zero weather.

Those Atlantans who last night forgot to shut off their water and bring in the plants will probably ruefully call a plumber and an ash-cart man this morning to straighten out the debris.

A blizzard now raging in the west is responsible for Atlanta's cold snap, which may last the rest of the week.

Judge Rebukes Girl For Going to Dinner With a Married Man

J. M. Masters, an insurance agent, of 113 South Gordon street, who was arrested in a hotel rathskeller Sunday night upon creating a disorderly scene in company with Miss Gordon Guess, a young woman of 20 Carnegie way, was bound over under $200 bond by Recorder Broyles Monday afternoon for carrying a concealed weapon and was also fined $50 and costs for drunk and disorderly conduct.

Judge Broyles severely rebuked Miss Guess for accompanying a married man to a dinner party. She explained that Masters had telephoned her early in the afternoon, and that she saw no harm in dining publicly with him.

Fulton Vets Number 1,306 on Pension Roll; Were 1,295 Last Year

Pension Commissioner J. W. Lindsey announced yesterday that there are 1,306 confederate pensioners on his roll from Fulton county this year. The sum to be distributed among them is $78,410. Last year there were 1,295 pensioners, who were paid $77,780.50. As he has received no report of the number of dead in Fulton during the last year, Colonel Lindsey says that the number actually paid will fall considerably under the number on the roster. There will probably not be more than 1,200.

Bibb county has 411 pensioners this year, getting $24,800. There have been 21 deaths reported. Last year Bibb had 413 pensioners, who were paid $24,800. Floyd county has 337 pensions, getting $20,300, with 17 deaths, as against 340 last year, receiving $20,480. DeKalb county has 284 pensioners, getting $17,400, with 17 dead, as against 287 last year, who received $17,160.

"GROWN IN INDIANA" DINNER FOR HOOSIERS

The banquet of the Hoosier Society of Atlanta on Tuesday night, January 20, at the Hotel Ansley, will be one of the most unique affairs of its kind ever held in Atlanta. Everything on the menu to be served one week from tonight will be either grown in Indiana or originally from that state.

Replies to celebrities such as George Ade, Thomas W. Marshall, David Starr Jordon and other well-known Indianians are coming in and these messages of cheer will be read at the first annual dinner.

Reservations for the dinner are rapidly reaching the 125 mark and it is expected that close to 150 Hoosiers will sit down to the banquet table at their initial dinner gathering.

An enthusiastic meeting of the executive committee was held on Monday at the Ansley.

COUNTY INSTITUTION HEADS ARE RE-ELECTED

All of the various heads of the county institutions were re-named at the meeting of the county commissioners on Monday. Some of the employees were given slight salary increases.

A. Q. Turner and his wife were renamed as heads of the county almshouse; T. A. E. Means, superintendent of the industrial farms; L. Z. Rosser, county attorney; F. B. Evans, chief engineer at the jail and courthouse; W. T. Wilson, county highway engineer; C. M. Holland, county purchasing agent; S. D. Mitchell janitor of courthouse; Dr. Paul McDonald, county physician; Dr. J. W. Hurt, coroner to the county physician and jail; J. H. Gilbert, night watchman of Thrower building; H. V. Barrow, night watchman of the old city hall building; W. A. Pickens and Dent Wooten, elevator operators of the Thrower building and old city hall.

J. M. Reeves was re-named as chaplain of the negro convicts of the county; E. L. Vaughn, chaplain to the white convicts; C. H. Conway, chaplain at the county jail, and John R. Jones, chaplain at the county almshouse.

FOUND TO BE INNOCENT AFTER 7 YEARS IN PEN

Governor Slaton commuted to present service yesterday the life sentence of Henry McKeever, a Coweta county negro, who is now believed to have been innocent of the crime for which he was convicted. He had served seven years in the penitentiary.

McKeever was convicted of killing another negro named Brown about eight years ago in a dance fight. It has developed recently that "Shack" Barnett, who has since died, was, in all probability, the man who did the killing. Executive clemency was recommended by the trial judge and a number of prominent citizens.

BOARD TO INVESTIGATE CHILDREN'S SOCIETY

The alms and juvenile committee of the board of county commissioners will make an investigation of the Georgia Children's Home society before they make an appropriation for partial maintenance of the institution. This was decided on Monday at a meeting of the commission. The society had petitioned the commissioners for aid.

GEORGIA OHIO SOCIETY TO MEET FRIDAY NIGHT

The members of the Ohio Society of Georgia will meet at the Hotel Ansley Friday night. All members are urged to be present as matters of interest will come up and be discussed. The meeting will take place on the mezzanine floor.

GENERAL EVANS GOES TO WASHINGTON TODAY

National Rifle Association Directors to Determine Time and Place of Next Meet.

General R. K. Evans, of the United States army, with headquarters in Atlanta, will leave for Washington Tuesday afternoon to attend a meeting of the directors and members of the National Rifle association.

At this meeting the time and place of the next annual shoot of the association will be determined. The object of the association is to develop expert rifle shots in the United States. General Evans is a director of the association, and is himself an expert shot.

Mrs. Evans will accompany General Evans, and they will be gone for several weeks.

ROYAL WELSH LADIES HIGHLY RECOMMENDED

Atlantans will have the privilege of hearing at the Auditorium-Armory on Tuesday, January 20, the only female chorus which is on tour in the United States. It is the Royal Welsh Ladies' choir and the concert will be given under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Festival association.

It is said that their ensemble singing has never been surpassed. The reason of this is that the choir is made up of pupils of its leader, Madame Hughes-Thomas, who are with her not only on concert tours, but live with her at Cardiff, Wales, when not on the road. Each member of the choir is a soloist and many of them are graduates of the Royal Academy of London.

The program is such that it will be of interest not only to those who have studied music, but also to those who just love a flowing melody, and rhythmical, catchy little tunes.

ATLANTA SUFFRAGISTS HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

The Woman's Suffrage association will hold a rally at the Hotel Ansley ballroom tonight at which time several advocates of suffrage will speak.

Mrs. Charles O. Craigie, head of the church work division of the national suffrage movement, will make an address on "The Citizen's Mother." Dr. A. R. Holderby, of this city, will speak on "Woman's Rights Movement." Mrs. Anna Fletcher, of England, will also make a short address. Dr. S. B. Marks will speak on "Suffrage and Labor."

Mrs. Mary McLendon, president of the state suffrage organization, will preside while Mrs. Amelia Woodall, president of the Atlanta Woman's Suffrage association, will present the speakers.

Tull Waters to Stand For the County Board As Country Candidate

Commissioner Tull C. Waters, whose term as county commissioner expires this fall has stated to The Constitution that he will stand for re-election.

Mr. Waters will make the race for the place as a candidate from the country. The law, which covers the selection of county commissioners, provides that one member of the board shall be from what is termed the country.

Commissioner Shelby Smith, now a member of the board is, at present, the member from the country. It is not known whether or not Commissioner Smith will again make the county board race or not.

Negro Eight Feet Tall and Weighing Just 350, Startles Decatur Street

George Bell, the Ringling Brothers' giant and an Atlanta negro, arrived in the city today on his vacation. Bell is 8 feet high, weighs 350 pounds and is well proportioned, wears a No. 23 shoe, is only 22 years old, and still growing. As he walked down Decatur street yesterday pedestrians almost blocked traffic in stopping to gaze wonder-stricken at this giant of unbelievable size.

Bell has been with the circus four years. He has a number of brothers and sisters, but the rest of the family are average-sized people.

How To Grow Long Beautiful Hair

By a Hair Specialist.

It is not hard to stop the hair from falling out and promote its growth if the right means are used. There is no hope for the scalp where the hair roots are dead and the scalp is shiny. However, to those who have not reached this condition, immediate steps should be taken to stop it before it is too late. Here is a simple recipe which you can make at home, that will stop the hair from falling out, promote its growth and eradicate scalp eruptions and scalp humors. I know of cases where the hair has grown from four to five inches in a few months after using this simple recipe: To a half pint of water add 1 oz. bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine, and apply to the hair, rubbing with the finger tips, two or three times a week. These ingredients can be obtained at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home. This recipe not only promotes the growth of the hair, but darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy.

More Money Is Given To Sheriff of Fulton To Feed His Prisoners

Sheriff Mangum will receive, during the present year, 37½ cents per capita upon which to feed his prisoners, according to action of the county commissioners on Monday. Heretofore the sheriff has been feeding his charges at a 30-cent rate.

The sheriff's communication, read to the commissioners on Monday, asked for a per capita of 40 cents, but this was voted down and the 37½-cent rate substituted by Commissioner Turman.

FREIGHT BUREAU WILL HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

The Atlanta Freight bureau will hold its twelfth annual meeting Thursday evening, January 15, at the Piedmont hotel.

The occasion will be celebrated by an informal dinner, preceded by a reception beginning at 6:30 o'clock. After the dinner there will be speeches upon freight and manufacturing questions and election of officers.

The low price of bonds and the high rate obtainable on real estate mortgages made the year a good one for investment.

The wording of the Federal Income Tax was materially improved and policyholders generally benefited by the intelligent response made to our letter to policyholders, sent out last April. The united protest of policyholders against unfair legislation is something that all legislatures, Federal and State, will have to reckon with in the future.

A statement consisting of 168 folio pages, giving in minute detail the transactions of the year, schedules of the Company's assets, and a vast deal of additional information, will be filed with the Department of Commerce in Washington, with the Government of each State (except one) of the United States, and with the Governments of all the leading Countries of the world. A brief of this, containing important details, will be sent to policyholders during 1914, and will be mailed to any one on request.

THE NEW EXPRESS TARIFFS.

The most sweeping readjustment of transportation rates ever promulgated is contained in the announcement of the new tariffs of the Southern Express company, which will, in common with every other express company, become operative February 1. The condition under which the readjustment becomes operative is perhaps even more notable than the widely heralded process by which the American Bell Telephone and Telegraph company voluntarily complied with the government's interpretation of the Sherman law. The Bell case related almost solely to practices and facilities. The express companies have, without the slightest legal resistance, agreed to make effective orders of the interstate commerce commission which prune their rates, the country over, from 5 to 50 per cent, the average being 25 per cent. No such revolutionary change has ever been wrought in the revenue department of any corporation, and certainly none at all without a semblance of effort to block regulation through the courts.

The development is a tribute to the energy of the interstate commerce commission and to the wisdom and common sense of the express companies. The making of this new tariff, almost baffling in its intricacies, meant arduous investigation for the commission covering a period of several years. The voluntary acceptance of the commission's edict means a surrendering of tremendous revenue and an effort, not heretofore paralleled in American business, to readjust great corporate activities to a radically new scale. In a way, the thing is epochal.

There is no reason why the parcel post and the express companies should not both prosper under the new condition. There is every reason why both should find their business stimulated. With the mutual knowledge that they must face competition each will have a constant incentive to render better service. If the deliveries of the parcel post are slower than those of the express companies the government will ask the reason why. If the companies lag behind the parcel post, the big-brained men at the head will find the fault and devise expedience to meet it. This means that between the two competitors the people will enjoy the best package service of any country on the globe. Enough new business will be created not only to support both factors, but, as the usefulness of each in its distinct field is demonstrated, to increase their respective revenues. And, from this angle, the establishment of the parcel post, far from being the entering wedge for a government monopoly in the transportation of small packages, should prove a healthful influence for competition, sturdily sustained, benefiting both participants, and, above all, the shipping public.

But the fact should not be overlooked that the express companies themselves have accepted the government's order without protest. That they could have appealed to the courts and held the order up for a long time is not doubted, whatever may have been the final outcome. That they did not do so is a tribute both to their judgment and their patriotism.

ATLANTA'S HARDEST WORKERS.

The housewives of Atlanta are called in mass meeting at the Auditorium this evening in behalf of several thousand of the hardest worked of Atlanta's citizens. The meeting is under the auspices of the Retail Grocers and Butchers' association, and its purpose will be an effort to introduce some sort of uniformity in the present unreasonable and gruelling hours the employees in these two important industries are forced to follow.

Last summer, for the first time in the history of Atlanta, the attaches of these establishments enjoyed the weekly half-holiday which has for years been the commonplace enjoyment of workers in virtually every other line in the city. It is possible for department stores, machine shops, factories and most of the other important industries to shut down at noon on Saturdays during the heated season. But be the weather ever so trying, people must eat. Saturday is the day of biggest buying. People then lay in provisions for two and a half days. To have observed a week-end half-holiday would have deranged every household in Atlanta. With this fact in mind the association pitched on Wednesday as a day more adapted to the purpose than Saturday.

That was one step toward ordinary justice to these toilers. The next logical step is a curtailing of their hours to a standard in some wise conforming to that observed in other occupations. Many clerks and other attaches of groceries and butcher shops work from fourteen to sixteen hours a day. They are driven to this, chiefly, because buyers are thoughtless as to the time in which they lay in supplies. Many housewives either order late in the evening for the following morning, or have their cooks do the buying on the way to work. This means that if deliveries are to be effected, the establishment must in many cases open at or before daybreak. And orders sent in late in the afternoon mean that stores must be kept open after 7, and teams kept out until on toward midnight for deliveries.

It happens, therefore, that these men who feed Atlanta have no fixed working hours. Many a Sunday is spoiled for them, because they have been forced to work until midnight of the Saturday preceding. Always they are on the jump, from opening Monday until the closing Saturday night.

This condition is unjust. It is unnecessary. Method in buying will remedy it. An agreement between grocers and butchers, supplemented with co-operation from housewives, will turn the trick. The meeting at the Auditorium is to be a get-together affair to plan details. Housewives are cordially invited and they will be entertained at a buffet luncheon tendered by the members of the association. Knowing the women of Atlanta as it does, The Constitution is sure that once they understand the situation they will gladly exert their every influence toward rectifying it.

CHEAPER TO BE HEALTHY.

The first national conference for race betterment, being held in Battle Creek, Mich., has been making history from the point of view of the national health. Authorities of wide note have been in attendance, and the topics discussed have, with negligible exceptions, been of a practical nature and unspoiled by that tendency to faddism so conspicuous in every American movement toward uplift today. An illustration is found in the following extract from an address by Dr. G. H. Sumner, secretary of the board of health of Iowa:

The sphere of the medical man has been enlarged and he has discovered that tuberculosis, typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox and many diseases are economic maladies; and trade and occupational diseases will not disappear until social conditions have been made better.

Whenever a state practices economy in public health measures, efficiency is not attained, but if we place efficiency first, economy is the essential result. The prime motive of all health boards should be to prevent the spread of disease at its source.

The old and tragic rule used to be never to call in a doctor for the individual or the community until the individual or the community fell actually sick. It is only within comparatively recent times, say the past twenty years, that we have recognized the superiority of prevention over cure and, with it, the fact that the maintenance of health is not a matter of sentiment, but one of stern economics.

We know now, though we do not always practice it, that that town which has the best sanitary and health departments is the town that is the most prosperous, just as we know that it is rare to associate success with the individual weakling. We know that the money stinted in garbage disposal facilities, or pure water supplies, or campaigns against communicable diseases, is lost many times over in disease and death and, at the very best, in impaired efficiency.

In brief phrase, it is cheaper for a community as well as an individual, to be healthy than to be sick. Every notable progress the world is now making is based in the last analysis upon the application of that discovery of relatively recent date.

TAFT FOR THE BENCH.

President Wilson has denied the report that he has decided to appoint former President Taft to the United States supreme court, when the forthcoming retirement of Chief Justice White creates a vacancy. It is to be hoped that the denial of Mr. Wilson comes more through the desire to announce his own intentions in his own way rather than through a decision not to appoint Mr. Taft.

This country holds plenty of available supreme court timber, but it is to be doubted if any one American stands out with more obvious eligibility than the big Ohioan. One of his sources of weakness as a president was the fact that his temperament and training were essentially more judical than executive. Transplanted to the supreme court, this weakness would become a tower of strength. Every lawyer familiar with Mr. Taft and the qualifications necessary to the nation's high tribunal knows his equipment. And certainly he has the courage and the breadth to serve the country with conspicuous ability.

It had been Mr. Taft's life-long ambition to occupy a seat on the supreme court bench. By singular irony, fate conspired to place in his hands the appointment of a majority of that court and to thwart his higher political ambitions by crowning his presidential administration with failure. If Mr. Wilson is looking for precedent to justify the ignoring of partisanship, Mr. Taft himself furnishes it. For he, in a degree more notable than that of any of his predecessors, made appointments to the supreme court absolutely without regard to political faith or geographical influence.

Mr. Taft's elevation to the supreme court would be a strikingly graceful act on part of Mr. Wilson. It would please the whole country, irrespective of section or party.

Still, it's better for a congressman to sit around and look wise than to talk and say nothing.

"Mother and Child."

Since the Hindu poet won the Nobel prize he has been widely quoted, but he never fails to make a creditable showing, as in this:

"Where have I come from, where did you pick me up?" the baby asked its mother.

She answered, half crying, half laughing, and clasping the baby to her breast:

"You were hidden in my heart as its desire, my darling.

"You were in the dolls of my childhood's games; and when with clay I made the image of my god every morning, I made and unmade you then.

"You were enshrined with our household deity, in his worship I worshipped you.

"In all my hopes and my loves, in my life, in the life of my mother you have lived.

"In the lap of the deathless Spirit who rules our home you have been nursed for ages."

Love in the Valley.

I.

Down in the valley I made a guest of Night;
Swift came the morning and drowned the dark in Light.
From the far and far away
Heaven came to spend the day,
All the world was singing "May"
In gardens rosy-bright.

II.

Down in the valley I shall dwell no more;
Joy for the grief now—sighing time is o'er.
Now I read Love's dreams and know
Roses o'er the red thorns grow;
Love himself has willed it so,
And Love keeps Heaven's door.

The Dangerous Widows.

Until recently George Bailey has been strangely silent about Houston's famous red-headed widows, but now he says:

"The injunction to visit the widows in their affliction is strictly scriptural, but it implies the exercise of unusual prudence and it is safer for a married man to take his wife along with him."

TEA-COSIES.

A review of some old household magazines shows that about a generation ago there was much learned discussion concerning the best material from which to make tea urns, tea pots and coffee boilers.

Some writers contended that tea would not draw in a glazed china pot; others condemned all metal, claiming that a taste of tin was imparted to both tea and coffee made in such ware.

The discussion seemed to end when Godey's Lady's Book declared in their household department, in the late fifties, that the nature of the material from which the utensils were made could have no action upon the tea itself. The main point that should be considered, they thought, was that the heat of the tea should be retained until it was poured out for serving.

To further this idea "tea-cosies" were invented, and it is a pity they were ever discarded for they did serve to keep both heat and aroma from escaping. Some of the cosies were made from black velvet, heavily padded and fearfully and wonderfully embroidered. Others were only flannel caps that fitted snuggly over the tea-pot. These caps or cosies were put on the pot of hot tea as soon as it was made and left there until the beverage had drawn a sufficient length of time to insure adequate strength.

We know, now, that the material which is the best conductor of heat is the poorest for containing anything that should remain hot.

All substances when heated throw off invisible rays of heat, but the smoothness or roughness of the surface aids or retracts the conducting power. So that polished steel, silver or aluminum, though good conductors, are not good radiators and therefore they do retain heat.

We have found, however, that all acid affects tin and an analysis of tea made in a tin utensil shows a strong trace of tin content which is an active, injurious poison.

Tea testers, who must secure the pure, natural flavor of the article examined, use china cups for their brewing, but real tea lovers who have given thought to the best materials for brewing in, universally declare themselves in favor of a heavy, unglazed earthenware pot. Some of these are covered with a silver finish and many are inlaid with India and Japanese designs, all are attractive and most satisfactory.

The newest tea pots are of burnished copper or hand beaten silver, but if you will peep inside you will find a white, unglazed clay interior.

It seems to me that some clever woman might put her inventive power to work and construct an asbestos cloth, or asbestos lined hood, similar to the old style cozy that would fill a need as that did.

Transitions That Threaten Peace.

(From "The Progress of the World," in the American Review of Reviews for January.)

Although the United States has grown rapidly in population during the last half-century, its characteristics have changed less than those of most other countries in the face of new conditions. We are now comparatively stable, in domestic and foreign relations. War often grows out of problems that arise in the evolutionary or transitional periods of nations. Our two wars with England, and our Mexican war, were of this character. Thus also the profound changes in Japan forced that country into a war with China, leading to the annexation of Formosa and to other changes of policy and jurisdiction, and later to a great war with Russia, resulting in the annexation of Korea and in further expansion of policy as a dominant force in the Orient and a great figure in the world-family of nations. So rapid has been the development of public opinion and the growth of ambitions in Japan that there is far more danger lest war feeling should at some moment of crisis control the Japanese government and precipitate a conflict than that such sentiment in the United States should ever impel our government to attack any foreign country.

It would be exceedingly harmful to Japan, under almost any conceivable circumstances, to become involved in a war with the United States. Such a war would also be a very costly and harmful thing for us. As a nation we are not conscious of any other than kindly feelings toward Japan, and we have no policies that could justify an attack. And yet it is true that great masses of people in Japan, inflamed by sensational newspapers, would within the last year or two have welcomed an aggressive war upon the United States, involving a seizure of the Philippines and Hawaii, and a naval bombardment of San Francisco, Seattle, and other places on the Pacific coast. Enlightened statesmen in Japan have no such thought or feeling. Nor is it at all likely that any large body of public opinion ten years hence would favor so mad a project as war with America. Yet the sequel of war with Russia was a national restlessness and sensitiveness (affected also by economic reaction and great numbers of returned troops failing to find industrial employment) that would have made the recent dispute about the Japanese in California much more dangerous than it actually was but for the fact that the United States had built up its navy after the Spanish war.

What Is a Taxable Income?

(From "Complexities of the Income Tax," by Benjamin S. Orcutt, in the American Review of Reviews for January.)

To summarize the general features of the law as it concerns the individual taxpayer, the method of arriving at a taxable income is as follows:

The normal tax is to be ascertained by deducting from the gross income of the individual the following items:

1. Expenses of carrying on business (not including living expenses.)
2. Interest paid on indebtedness.
3. Taxes (except assessments for local improvements).
4. Losses in trade.
5. Bad debts.
6. Depreciation of tangible property.
7. Dividends on stocks.
8. Income, the tax upon which has been withheld at the source.

There is exempt:

9. $3,000 plus $1,000 additional if the taxpayer is a married man.

There is excluded from consideration as income, interest on bonds of a state or political subdivision thereof, bonds of the United States or its possessions, compensation of judges of the United States courts now in office, compensation of officers and employees of a state or any political subdivision thereof.

A Veteran "Bobbie."

(From The London Globe.)

A freeman of the city of London, who is also a member of the city police, has just retired from the force. He is Charles Crossingham, who has for years been on traffic duty at Dudgate Circus. Among his colleagues he is known as the "member for Bridewell," owing to his fondness for argument, which found an outlet in membership of the Coger's Debating society. His experiences in the police force go back to the days when constables on night duty climbed up lamp posts to heat their cans of tea.

The Great Trials of History

Trial of Sir Walter Raleigh.

Sir Walter Raleigh, the eminent English explorer and author, was several times imprisoned, the first time being when he was accused and found guilty of conspiring to raise Lady Arabella Stuart to the throne. The trial upon this charge took place in 1603 and ended in his being condemned to death at Winchester, November 17, 1603. Following this trial he was kept for thirteen years confined in the tower, but finally recovered his liberty, but not his pardon, through the influence of Villiers. James I., who had been responsible for his imprisonment, gave him an admiral's commission and he sailed with his fleet for the discovery of his promised El Dorado, in Guinea, but as his expedition was a failure, and the English government being on friendly terms with Spain and Raleigh having offended that nation by his conduct in Guinea, it was decided by the judges that the sentence of death pronounced in 1603 was still valid, he was executed in the palace yard at Westminster on October 29, 1618.

When Raleigh was arraigned for trial in 1603, the indictment read against him was that "he did conspire and go about to deprive the king of his government; to raise up sedition within the realm; to alter religion, to bring in the Roman superstition, and to procure foreign enemies to invade the kingdom."

To this indictment Raleigh pleaded not guilty. The trial was long drawn out, and fortunate for history it has been preserved almost in its entirety. Raleigh had been committed to the tower on July 19, 1603, and it was not until November, before the indictments were all ready for his prosecution. From the very start the trial at Winchester was conducted with such outrageous unfairness as to shock even the opinion of the time, and his gallant bearing, even in face of the brutality of the attorney general, Sir Edward Coke, turned public opinion in his favor. That Raleigh was cognizant of the conspiracies against the government appears probably by the testimony, though the evidence produced against him was insufficient to prove his guilt. Much was kept back by the counsel, and the jury was influenced by knowing that the counsel thought him guilty.

The jury, that sat in judgment at the trial, was only out a quarter of an hour before they returned a verdict of "Guilty." Thereupon the lord chief justice read the following "judgment:"

"But, since you have been found guilty of these horrible treasons, the judgment of the court is that you shall be taken from hence to the palace from whence you came, there to remain until the day of execution, and from thence you shall be drawn upon a hurdle, through the open streets, to the place of execution, there to be hanged and cut down alive, and your body shall be opened, your heart and bowels plucked out; then your head shall be struck off your body, and your body shall be divided into four quarters, to be disposed of at the king's pleasure. And God have mercy upon your soul."

Sir Walter Raleigh besought the earl of Devonshire and the lords to seek out the king in his behalf, and point out to him the place he bore in his majesty's time, and thereby to request him that the rigor of his judgment might be qualified, and his death honorable and not ignominous.

They promised that this would be done, and Raleigh was carried again to the castle. When Sir Walter was left to his majesty's mercy he thought him too great a malcontent to have his freedom, and probably too innocent to lose his life. He was, therefore, confined to the tower and was permitted to enjoy the liberty of custody, and he employed his time in obtaining learning and science of various kinds. It was while thus confined that he produced his remarkable "History of the World."

As the Spanish demanded his punishment, following his fortunate Guinea adventure, already referred to, King James was willing to sacrifice Raleigh to the advancement of peace with Spain. When he arrived at Plymouth Sir Lewis Stukely, vice admiral of the county of Devon, seized him and brought him to London. He was first placed in Westminster Hall and from thence was carried to the gate-house and the next morning to the parliament yard, "where he had the favor of the ax granted him."

All persons wondered how that old sentence, that had laid dormant for sixteen years, could have been made use of to take off Sir Walter Raleigh's head afterward. Raleigh's first appearance on the scaffold on the day of his execution, October 29, 1618, was with a smiling countenance, saluting the lords, knights and gentlemen, with others of his acquaintance who were present. He made a long speech before he was executed. After having examined the ax with which he was to have his head severed he said: "This is a sharp medicine," and when he was asked which way he would lay his head he replied: "So the heart be right, it is no matter which way the head lieth." Thus died Queen Elizabeth's favorite and the scourge and terror of Spain.

Talk About Stinkers!

(From The North Georgia Citizen.)

Stating that because his neighbor had nailed the pelt of a polecat to his house, the inmates of his household had been kept from sleep and rest, Patrick Kelly, a well-known resident of this city, last week called upon the police for relief.

Officers investigating decided that Kelly's contention that the pelt should be buried was a just one, accepting the view that the thing was dead and ought to have been buried much earlier.

Kelly stated that because of the pelt, there had been neither sleep nor rest in his house for the preceding forty-eight hours.

The officers forced the owner of the pelt to bury it; but no step toward punishing him was taken.

Remember.

Remember me when I am gone away,
Gone far away into the silent land;
When you can no more hold me by the hand,
Nor I half turn to go, yet turning stay.
Remember me when no more day by day
You tell me of our future that you plann'd.
Only remember me; you understand,
It will be late to counsel then or pray.
Yet if you should forget me for a while
And afterward remember, do not grieve;
For if the darkness and corruption leave
A vestige of the thoughts that once I had,
Better by far you should forget and smile
That than you should remember and be sad.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON,
The Famous Prose Poet.

AFTER THE REVELRY.

"I'm glad the holidays are past," remarked the landlady. "It's hard enough to make ends meet at ordinary times, but the outlay is simply ruinous at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Boarders expect all the delicacies of the season, and seem to imagine that the landlady gets them for nothing."

"I'm sorry to observe, Mrs. Jiggers," said the star boarder, "that you always sympathize with the landlady as against her clients. Boarders who pay in advance certainly have a right to expect something extra on festal days, since they are so often required to consume the cheaper grades of fried liver. This they do without complaining, and the landlady should be equally patient when she goes to the dealer in gutta percha and buys a turkey or an albatross of the interglacial period for the holiday dinner.

"But, I too, am glad that the holidays are past, for the purchase and distribution of Christmas presents nearly undermined by constitution. I am not in favor with the proposition advanced by some insurgents that the exchange of Christmas presents be abolished. I think the custom an excellent one, serving to remind us once a year that we are human beings, and not graven images; but it should be revised downward, Mrs. Jiggers. It should have a general overhauling. As things are now, a man always receives many gifts he has no use for, and if he takes them out among his friends and trades them for something he can use, the giver is sure to hear of it, and then there is a broken heart.

"The stores are crowded with beautiful things at the Christmas season, yet when you go into them you don't see anything suitable for anybody you know. You go around looking until your eyes are sprained, and finally buy the most useless and foolish thing in the whole layout and send it to your aunt, and she wonders why you didn't exercise some sense when you were doing your Christmas shopping. You feel when you send away your presents that they are futile and absurd, and your only consolation is the knowledge that the presents you get are equally futile and absurd.

"On Christmas morning, Mrs. Jiggers, when the bells were sending forth joyous peals, you handed me your annual Christmas present. Far be it from me to criticize the gift of any warm hearted friend of mine, but if we are going to inaugurate a reform we must speak plainly. Your gift was a pen wiper. It was a beautiful thing of silk and velvet and I shall wear it next my heart while I live, and have it buried with me; but the fact remains that I haven't had occasion to use a pen wiper in fifteen years and don't expect to have use for one in the next hundred years. I carry a fountain pen, but it is merely a bluff, designed to convince innocent bystanders that I am a man of literary tendencies. There never is any ink in it, and even if there was a man couldn't write with it.

"Even if it would work, and I used it once in a while, I'd never wipe it. People who wipe their pens nearly always wear sidewhiskers and sing in glee clubs. The man who wipes his pen when done writing is the one who would get down on his knees to dig a pin from a crack in the sidewalk. Such a man is of trifling character, and never will achieve anything worth while.

"You see me every day in the year, Mrs. Jiggers, yet it never occurred to you to ask me what I'd like for a Christmas present. Had you done that, everything would have been simplified, and I'd have had a gift of some practical use. The whole solution of this Christmas present problem is suggested by this fact. As the glorious day approaches people should go around among their friends, notebook in hand, and ask them what they'd like to have best, cautioning them against naming anything too expensive. Under the present system people pretend that they don't expect Christmas presents, and then go through the motions of being tickled to death when they receive foolish gifts they can't either use or pawn.

"Next Christmas please consult me before buying my present, my dear Mrs. Jiggers."

Ponderous Personages

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

GOLIATH.

Goliath, the most famous giant in history up to the time of Christy Mathewson, was born a poor boy in Gath, and soon rose to a height of over eleven feet, unless the press agents of those days were even more reckless than ours.

Goliath became very famous on account of his height and secured a very lucrative position in the army of the Philistines, who fought with swords instead of ink in those days. It was at that time the custom for every army to carry along a trained giant, if he could be secured, and let him do most of the fighting. Goliath proved a very willing scrapper and used to delight in parading before his army and daring any man of the opposing hosts to come out and fence with him. Some rash young champion did so at various times, but, as Goliath had a sword nine feet long and a spear with a shaft like a walking beam, they usually died before they had gotten near enough to him to begin their side of the battle.

Because of this fact, the Philistines waxed more powerful each year and used to bully the rest of the then world unmercifully. They owed the Hebrews several long scores, and when they finally declared war and marched down upon Saul's army, with Goliath striding in front like the Goddess of Liberty on a suffragette raid, the whole Hebrew nation was seized with panic and stocks came down on the run.

Day after day Goliath walked in front of his army, begging any little thing on the other side to come out and discuss the issues of the day with him. But Saul's warriors refused with remarkable self-control. Finally, David, a young shepherd, who had never met up with giants and couldn't be expected to appreciate the danger, accepted the challenge. He walked out in front of the army with his sling shot and when Goliath charged down like a runaway motor truck, David plunked him in the forehead with a stone. To the great amazement of everybody concerned, Goliath fell down with great haste and David cut off his head with his own sword.

Striding in front like the Goddest of Liberty on a Suffragette raid.

This story teaches us that most giants are only bluffs after all. If the people of Massachusetts and New York had heeded this lesson, they would not have shuddered so long and unprofitably before the New Haven railroad and Mr. Chas. Murphy.

PRESIDENT WILSON HERE 15 MINUTES

Unusual Precautions Taken by Railroads to Prevent Accidents to the Train of the Executive.

Looking very much refreshed and improved in health by his three weeks' vacation at Pass Christian, Miss., President Woodrow Wilson spent fifteen minutes in Atlanta yesterday on his way to Washington to resume the active duties of his office.

The president's special was run as a section of one of the regular New York expresses from New Orleans, and arrived at the Terminal station at 11:50 o'clock Monday morning. While waiting for a change of engines and for the train to be turned over by the West Point to the Southern, the president exercised himself by walking several times up and down the long platform.

He was attended in his walk by his naval aide, Dr. Cary T. Grayson, Representative B. Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, who was with the presidential party, and by the secret service men, Jim Sloan, Richard Jervis and Joseph P. Murphy.

The president declined to receive callers of any kind, while in Atlanta, and did not shake hands with anyone, although he returned the salutations of several who spoke to him.

There was no one in the presidential party besides those named except Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson, Miss Eleanor Wilson, Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, a cousin of the president, who is Mrs. Wilson's private secretary, and Charley Swenn, the president's stenographer. The ladies of the party remained secluded in the president's private car, and were not to be seen.

It is doubtful whether the railroads ever took greater precautions to protect the life of a president than were taken on the trip from Pass Christian. The president went on board his private car at 9 o'clock, the train leaving a little after 11. A pilot train was run ahead of the president's special all the way from Pass Christian to Montgomery, Ala.

The switches were all ordered locked, and every available section man was put on duty, and each section of the road furnished with an extra guard. Men with lighted lanterns were stationed at every street crossing in the cities of Mobile and Montgomery.

MEN RIOTING FOR WORK AT FORD MOTOR PLANT

Trouble Begins When the Police Tries to Disperse Crowd of Ten Thousand.

Detroit, Mich., January 12.—Rioting occurred at the plant of the Ford Motor company here today, when a crowd of men, estimated at 10,000, were told that work could not be given them today. The men had waited in the cold for several hours. Trouble started when a policeman attempted to disperse the crowd.

An officer was knocked down, his clothes partially torn off and bricks and other missiles were hurled through the windows and doors of the factory. After a fire hose had been turned on the crowd the rioters dispersed. Five arrests were made.

"We can't stand here and freeze to death," shouted some of the leaders, and a concerted rush was made toward the building entrance immediately after the policeman's announcement. Several hundred managed to get inside the plant before the trouble-makers were under control. The thermometer registered 9 degrees above zero and many of the men had been standing in line since long before daylight.

Announcement by the company of a $10,000,000 profit sharing distribution among its employees in 1914 has brought thousands of employment seekers to the plant during the last week, but the first serious trouble was experienced today. The profit sharing plan went into effect today.

ANTI-OPIUM MEASURES ARE READY FOR WILSON

Washington, January 12.—Two bills imposing stringent restrictions upon the manufacture, sale or importation of opium were sent to the white house today for the president's signature after the house had accepted amendments made by the senate before the holiday recess.

One measure imposes a tax of $200 a pound on the manufacture of smoking opium, limits its manufacture to citizens of the United States and penalizes violations of the revenue regulations by fines of $10,000 or imprisonment for five years or both. The other bill prohibits the importation of opium or its derivitives except for medical purposes and provides fines or imprisonment.

These measures were introduced by Governor General Harrison, of the Philippines, when he was a member of the house from New York.

MEXIC FUGITIVES ARE TO BE HELD

War Department Orders 5,000 Refugees Interned at Fort Bliss—Women and Children to Accompany.

Washington, January 12.—All the Mexican federal soldiers, now in the custody of the United States border patrol forces at Presidio, Texas, will be transferred to Fort Bliss and interned there indefinitely. Secretary Garrison ordered the transfer late today, with permission to the refugee women and children to accompany the soldiers if they desire.

About 3,000 Mexican officers and men fled across the Rio Grande when the victorious constitutionalists entered Ojinaga and with them, besides many women and children, are some 1,500 civilian refugees. The civilians are not prisoners and will be allowed to go where they wish, though those desiring to remain in American territory will have to satisfy the immigration officers.

Difficult Undertaking.

With Presidio 60 miles from the nearest railroad, it will be a difficult undertaking to get the army of prisoners to its haven. Brigadier General Bliss will march his visitors northward to Marfa and there put them aboard trains for Fort Bliss, near El Paso. The thousand or more horses brought over probably will be used on the journey of five or six days, as there will have to be wagons for the sick and wounded, women and children and the baggage.

Secretary Garrison determined to hold the refugees, after an hour's consultation with Counsellor Moore, of the state department, Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, and Brigadier General Crowder, judge advocate general of the army. His action is in continuation of the policy adopted months ago in disposing of federals who crossed into Arizona from Nogales, Sonora, and into Brownsville, Texas, from Matamoras, Tamaulipas. Some of the constitutionalist soldiers who were driven across the line at other points were disarmed and allowed to "filter back" into Mexico when the coast was clear. For the present, however, there will be no more "filtering back," Secretary Garrison announced, either of federal or constitutionalists.

To Meet An Emergency.

The secretary decided that women and children who accompany the soldiers into Texas should be allowed to remain with them in the detention camp and that their immediate wants in the matter of food and shelter should be provided for by the army.

It was expressly stated that this policy is intended to meet an emergency and might be changed at any time. At present the United States will pay for the keep of Mexican soldiers and adherents, but later on the Mexican government will be asked for reimbursement.

REFUGEES ARE READY FOR THEIR LONG MARCH

Presidio, Texas, January 12.—Six American federal generals, 3,300 fugitive soldiers ad 1,500 refugees, driven out of Ojinaga by General Francisco Villa's rebel forces, were put in readiness today for a 67-mile march afoot to Marfa, Texas. The soldiers will be interned at Fort Bliss indefinitely.

At Marfa, the nearest railroad station, the federal army which sought asylum in the United States after their defeat by the rebels, will be guarded by the border patrol pending their final disposition by the war department. Among the civilians are 1,207 women, as officially counted by Major McNamee. They also have 1,000 federal army horses and mules.

Major McNamee sent cavalrymen along the road to select and provision camps at the points where stops will be made. Food supplies will be issued through the army.

The whereabouts of General Pascual Orozco and Ynez Salazar, commanders of federal volunteers, who fled from Ojinaga with 700 cavalrymen, had not been learned tonight.

The arrest of Rafael Flores, Orozco's secretary, on the road between Presidio and Marfa, gave rise to the belief that the general was on this side of the river. General Mercado, of the federal regulars, charged Orozco and Salazar with cowardice and the rebels have sentenced them to execution if captured on the Mexican side.

General Villa at Ojinaga today started some of his troops to Chihuahua and himself prepared to leave to direct his campaign southward toward Mexico City.

Hundreds of rifles and numerous field pieces were found in Ojinaga after the federal retreat. The field pieces were those which General Mercado wished to bring to American soil because he had no ammunition for them, but which he was forced later to abandon.

General Villa said he would use all the rifles and guns in his future campaign against Huerta's forces.

The first federal garrison south of Chihuahua is Torreon, 525 miles from the United States border. The suburbs of Torreon already are held by the rebels and General Villa said he expected little opposition there against his march to Zacatecas, the next city south.

TWO NEGROES LYNCHED FOR ASSAULT ON MAN

The Alleged Assailants Were Strung to Tree by a Florida Mob.

Tampa, Fla., January 12.—News was received here tonight of a double lynching between here and Mulberry, when a mob is alleged to have captured two negroes charged with assault on a white man named Collins, and strung them up to a tree.

According to meager details of the crime brought here, Lewis Peck and an unknown negro assaulted Collins, supposedly in the belief that he was the man who had testified against them in a court prosecution.

It is alleged they threw a coat over Collins' head as he was on his way to see a doctor, and after severely beaaing him, stabbed him several times and left him lying on the tarck where a train was soon due. Another negro believed to be implicated is under arrest in Lakeland.

The lynching has stirred the large number of negroes engaged in the phosphate fields at Mulberry to a high state of excitement, and citizens at Mulberry are going about heavily armed.

Mexican Boy Must Hang.

Washington, January 12.—The supreme court today refused to set aside a death sentence of Texas courts on Leon Cardonas Martines, a 16-year-old Mexican convicted of murdering Miss Emma Brown near Saragosa, Texas. Martinez asked the supreme court to release him because he dared not appeal from the death sentence because of the fear of mob violence.

EUGENIC WEDDINGS TO IMPROVE RACE

So Say Speakers at Race Betterment Conference. Eugenic Selection of Mothers Is Advocated.

Battle Creek, Mich., January 12.—Marriage selection, education for race betterment and especially along lines of eugenics and the dependent child were some of the principal topics of discussion at the closing session tonight of the national conference on race betterment. Among the speakers were Professor Roswell Hill Johnson, of the University of Pittsburg; Professor Winfield Scott Hall, of the Northwestern university, and Dr. Gertrude E. Hall, of the state board of charities of New York.

Professor Johnson urged the widest possible range of acquaintance for young people, claiming that the school and church do not offer sufficient advantages in that respect. He suggested the municipal dance hall as a beneficial step in that direction. Eugenics seeks improvement in both mental and physical racial qualities of future generations, he said.

School teachers should not shoulder the responsibility of teaching sex hygiene to the young, said Professor Winfield Scott Hall, in the discussion of education for race betterment. He declared it was important, however that the school teacher should supplement home teachings and should assure purity of atmosphere in school by close supervision of recreation periods.

Easy to Improve Race.

"It will be no easy task to improve the race so there will be few or no dependent children," said Dr. Gertrude Hall. "The gradual elimination of the dependent child, however, will be one of the best indications of superiority in our national stock and in our civilization.

"This country of ours is big enough and rich enough so that every family ought to find room enough to live, and be sure of steady employment at a living wage. Society should take measures to prevent the grinding poverty and discords which wreck some homes, and thereby create a better parenthood and neighborhood life. American civilization must be built on sound home life, on devotion of parents to their off spring, on respect of children for their parents, and finally on the protection of the home by philanthropic agencies and by the state itself."

Eugenic selection of healthy mothers and provision for the cost of bearing and rearing children should be made if the race is to survive, according to Dr. J. McKeen Cattell, of Columbia university.

The restriction of the propagation of feeble-minded persons is necessary if the production of defective delinquents is to be avoided, declared Hastings H. Hart, of New York.

New Methods in Baby Contests.

New methods in prize baby contests were urged by Rollins Gilman, head worker of the University Settlement Society of New York, in addressing the National conference on Race Betterment here today.

"The healthiest or prize-winning babies," he said, "are of less immediate importance to the society of tomorrow than the babies who are unable, through lack of health, to win prizes. The unhealthiest are the ones in which we should take most interest.

"If the contest is to consist of finding a physically fit baby, to single out one and to give its parents the proud distinction of bearing such a prodigy and incidentally arousing bad blood in the parents of the baby who came so near to winning, but didn't, then let us have few contests. I am more interested in the possibility of an imperfect baby growing up into fairly fit physical manhood and womanhood than in searching out a physically perfect baby who may not so grow up, but, above all, I am interested in having a perfect, or imperfect, babe grow up into moral and spiritual fitness for parenthood and citizenship.

Temperamental Endowment.

"Temperamental endowment is from the social standpoint, from the standpoint of the society of tomorrow, much more important than physical health, important as that most certainly is.

"To make a baby health contest of more than passing importance, it should be followed by two distinct additional examinations, one into the environmental conditions surrounding each baby, and another into the possible inheritance that the baby is to fall heir to. I think that each contest should offer three prizes—one as at present to the most perfect physical baby; another to that baby whose parents have sought to keep and have kept his environment best, and the other, and possibly the most important, to the baby which has the best parents.

The speaker took up the international scope of race improvement.

"As we grow broad in our vision we will see that what is needed is a concerted action by the civilized nations on the subject of race betterment," he said. He suggested a conference that would set in motion machinery by which the nations could, through government action, or otherwise, better the race of man from standpoints of physical health, mental attainments and moral stamina.

Medals for Best Babies.

The committee on awards in the "better babies contest" this afternoon awarded medals for the best babies—boy and girl between the ages of 6 months and 3 years—to Alvin Kingsley, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kingsley, and Virginia June May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. May.

It was said that the winners of the awards were practically perfect in physique and mentality. The parents of both children live in Battle Creek. The father of the boy is a taxicab driver and the father of the girl is engaged in the optical business. Both fathers are abstainers, it was announced, from tobacco and alcohol.

BABY'S TERRIBLE SKIN HUMOR CURED

Milk-Crust Formed a Solid Scab, but Resinol Cured in Four Days.

Detroit, June 21, 1913.—"About a year ago my two-months-old baby was troubled with what they call milk-crusts. The lower part of her body was a mass of sores. It began with small pimples, then they turned to one whole scab. The scab would break open and then it would bleed. She suffered much, as she cried night and day.

"For one month I tried everything, but without relief, until I sent for a sample of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Upon the first application I noticed a change, and after four days my baby was entirely cured. I cannot praise your remedies too highly, and recommend them to all my friends." (Signed) Mrs. Henry Mosher, 154 Lewerenz Ave.

You need never hesitate to use Resinol. It is a doctor's prescription, that has been used by other physicians for eighteen years in the treatment of eczema, ringworm, pimples and all sorts of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Practically every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. For free trial, write to Dept. 46-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Refuse imitations sold as "just like Resinol."

PRISON AND MOYER PRAISED IN REPORT

Warden Says He May Make Statement to the Public When Charges Have Been Investigated.

Washington, January 12.—The Atlanta penitentiary is being conducted along lines difficult to criticise and the charges involving Warden Moyer and his discipline and rules are without good foundation, according to a report made today to Attorney General McReynolds by Dr. A. J. McKelway, of Washington, special investigator for department of justice.

Dr. McKelway spent more than a week in Atlanta and investigated as fully as possible in that time all the charges made by Julian Hawthorne, the author, recently released from the penitentiary, and by Representative Howard, of Georgia. He had a long talk with Mr. McReynolds today and was understood to have reported that there was little foundation for the charges made by either man. It is unlikely that Warden Moyer will be called to Washington or that a further investigation will be made at this time.

Further specific charges involving the Atlanta prison will be looked into by Mr. McReynolds if brought by responsible persons, but it was said today he was satisfied with Dr. McKelway's report.

Dr. McKelway is southern secretary of the national child labor commission and was selected by the attorney general because he was not connected with the department and was not interested in any political phase of the investigation. He was said to have gone into the penitentiary and looked it over thoroughly.

Callers who talked with the attorney general have been impressed with his declaration that he does not expect to make a prison so attractive that the life there will be preferable to that outside its walls. He has made it clear that he has no intention to make prison jobs political "pie," and has said that he does not care whether a warden is a republican or a democrat, so long as he runs his prison in the right way.

Warden Moyer, while pleased with the favorable report made by Dr. A. J. McKelway to the attorney general upon conditions at the federal prison, declined to comment upon the charges or the report. "When all charges have been investigated and the final reports are submitted and passed upon," said the warden, "I may have something to say to the public, but not before then."

PARDON IS REFUSED LOAN SHARK TOLMAN

Albany, N. Y., January 12.—Governor Glynn today refused finally to pardon D. H. Tolman, the convicted New York money lender, when District Attorney Whitman refused to say he favored an absolute pardon. The governor requires the indorsement of the trial judge and the prosecutor in every case where he exercises clemency.

The governor said the amount of indebtedness which would be cancelled by the notes Tolman promised to destory if released and the number of people who would be benefited would be based on guess work.

"The acceptance of such a proposition would open the way for men of means to obtain pardons that is not open to poor men," the governor said. "I know of no reason why a millionaire criminal should be treated any differently than a pauper criminal. I do not feel justified in inaugurating a precedent of this kind."

KAISER IS SAWING AND SPLITTING WOOD

Potsdam, Germany, January 12.—Emperor William for several days past has joined his day laborers in sawing and splitting wood on the imperial estate surrounding Sans Souci palace. He had been advised by his physicians to take a course of manual labor.

His majesty is said to take great pride in piling the fuel into neat heaps, which he then gives to the laborers.

WILL PUSH PLANS FOR SILVER LAKE

Now That Oglethorpe University Is Assured to Atlanta, Silver Lake Estates Will Be Pushed to Early Organization.

With reference to the plan for the development of Silver Lake Estates, of which Oglethorpe University, soon to be built on Peachtree Road, is a part, Mr. L. P. Bottenfield makes the following statement:

To the Public:

Now that Oglethorpe University at Silver Lake Estates is assured beyond all question, as a result of the completion of Atlanta's fund of $250,000, and the organization of its board of directors under charter granted by Fulton superior court, we have returned with double assurance to the completion of our plans for the development of Silver Lake Estates as a high-class and attractive residence community.

While Oglethorpe was in the balance we temporarily laid aside our plans as to Silver Lake Estates, in large measure, and threw the whole force of our organization back of the university project. We feel that we may take pardonable pride in the fact that our efforts helped to secure Oglethorpe for Atlanta.

Oglethorpe has been secured; that is settled. Now for Silver Lake Estates. We have, as is well known, offered the public an opportunity to join us on a partnership basis in the development of this magnificent property, and they have joined us already upon that basis to the extent of more than $300,000 actually subscribed and first payment made. These have come with us before there was any positive assurance as to Oglethorpe.

Silver Lake Estates will be organized with $400,000 subscribed, and, based upon inquiries which have come to us, we have no question that the additional $100,000 will be taken within the next two weeks.

Participation in Silver Lake Estates was put upon a basis of 110 on Monday, January 12, and will soon be further advanced to 115 without notice. This advance was made for two reasons: In the first place there has been material advancement in land values throughout the territory adjacent to the tract which will be occupied by Oglethorpe University. In the second place, it has been decided to hold the investment of Silver Lake Estates within the actual amount necessary for purchase and development of the property—to keep it just as far as possible under the maximum amount of $500,000, and this will give additional value to every dollar invested there.

Otherwise than as stated, there will not and cannot be any change whatever in Silver Lake Estates plans. Each subscriber will receive his land dividend soon after organization and will participate in all future profits of the partnership, which will be increased as a result of reducing the total investment, and the terms of payment are as heretofore announced.

Notices of Silver Lake Estates organization meeting will be sent out on February 1, 1914. Less than three weeks remain for those who have not yet come with us. Let me urge those who contemplate joining us in Silver Lake Estates to act at once.

Stockdell-Hoke Wedding Will Be Brilliant Affair

Athens, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Harriet Stockdell and Mr. John Hoke will be solemnized at high noon on Saturday at the home of the bride on Milledge avenue. The event will be characterized by an elegant simplicity, and will be witnessed by the family connections and a few intimate friends. The bride will have no attendants. The groom will be attended by his brother, Mr. Gene Hoke, of Augusta, as best man. Rev. C. C. Jarrell will perform the beautiful ceremony.

The bride will wear a traveling suit of handsome cloth, with hat to match. They will leave on the northbound Vestibule for New York to visit Miss Stockdell's sister. A number of friends are expected over from Atlanta next Friday. Mr. Clarence Stockdell, of Richmond, Va., arrives this week.

Wide social interest is centered around this popular couple, and their approaching wedding will mark a notable social event. Athens claims the charming bride-elect by adoption, Atlanta having been her home up to a few years ago, where the numbers her friends by the score and is an acknowledged belle. Her delightful personality and social charms have won for the same social prestige here.

Miss Stockdell is the daughter of the late Harry Stockdell, popular club man, business promoter and genial friend, who ranked among Atlanta's foremost citizens.

Mr. Hoke, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Hoke, is popular socially and in the business world, a member of the various clubs and a young man of splendid characteristics.

Club Organized.

The West End Park Social club was organized at the home of Misses Mary and Martha Brown Friday evening. The officers are: President, Mr. Lewis Brown; secretary, Miss Muriel Mullinaux; treasurer, Mr. Ralph Donald.

The game of pit was played, after which delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Walker.

The members are: Misses Ruth Collier, Mary Brown, Cora Standford, Muriel Mullinaux, Ruth Cameron, Martha Brown, Vivian Clyburn, Mrs. Sue Walker and Mrs. Brown; Messrs. Jackson, Donald, Quillian, Sullivan, Johnson, Simmons, Colson, Brown and Walker.

Mrs. Stovall Entertains.

Mrs. Stovall entertained at a charming family bridge party yesterday afternoon in compliment to her sister, Miss Carrie Foster, of Madison; Mrs. Hugh Spalding, of Atlanta, and Mrs. Marion Allen. The living room and dining room were bright and beautiful with grouping of ferns and quantities of Roman hyacinths and narcissi, which added a spring-like fragrance to the attractive home. After the happy game the handsome prizes were awarded, each honoree being presented a beautiful silver picture frame, and for the top score and consolation, sweet grass baskets were the pretty trophies.

A delicious hot supper was served, consisting of several courses. The guets were, besides the honorees: Mrs. Billups Phinizy, Miss Martha Phinizy, Miss Nellie Phinizy, Mrs. R. T. DuBose, Miss Mattie DuBose, Mrs. Robert W. Lamkin, Mrs. Edgeworth Lamkin.

Mrs. Stovall received her guests wearing a blue cloth gown, the corsage made of chiffon and lace. Miss Foster wore a saphire blue charmeuse, trimmed with fur and equisite lace.

Mrs. Spalding's gown was orchid satin, and Mrs. Allen wore a dark blue suit with lace blouse.—Athens Banner, January 10.

Miss Ryder Entertains.

Miss Martha Ryder was hostess at a bridge tea yesterday afternoon at her home on West Peachtree street in compliment to Miss Edith Dunson, a bride-elect, and for Miss Virginia Pound, of Chattanooga, who is the guest of Miss Dunson, and Miss Emmie Willingham. Vases filled with pink roses and narcissi decorated the rooms. Miss Ryder received her guests wearing a gown of lavender crepe de chine, trimmed in gold.

Invited to meet the honor guests were Miss Mignon McCarty, Miss Theodosia Willingham, Miss Helen Thorn, Miss Clifford West, Miss Edith Dunson, Miss Nellie Kiser Stewart, Miss Elizabeth Hines, Miss Grace Thorn, Miss Mary Lucy Turner, Miss Annie Lou Padgett, Miss Emmie Willingham, Mrs. O. D. Gorman, Jr., Miss Mary Blalock, Mrs. Ernest Blair Durham, Mrs. Julian Prade, Miss Sallie Fannie Gorman and Miss Marian Fielder.

Broznack-Hanover.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Broznack announce the marriage of their daughter, Fannie, to Mr. Harry S. Hanover, of Birmingham, Ala., on Sunday, January 11, at the home of the bride's parents, on Capitol avenue.

For Miss Woodward.

Miss Bessie Woodward was the guest of honor at a small bridge party yesterday given by Miss Elizabeth Westmoreland.

Pink roses and growing plants decorated the apartments, and the prizes were silk stockings for top score and a Dresden candlestick for consolation. The guest of honor was given a dainty piece of hand-made lingerie.

Miss Westmoreland wore brown chiffon velvet, and her sister, Mrs. Julius DeGive, who assisted her in entertaining, wore blue velvet, trimmed in fur. The eight guests were intimate friends of Miss Woodward.

To Mrs. Swift.

Mrs. George J. Dexter gave a matinee party yesterday followed by tea at the Piedmont Driving club in compliment to Mrs. Frank Swift, of New York.

Receiving Party.

At the afternoon reception to be given Friday by Mrs. James R. Padgett, Mrs. Russell Bridges and Miss Annie Lou Pagett in compliment to Miss Edith Dunson, the following ladies will assist in entertaining:

Misses Theodosia and Emmie Willingham, Mignon McCarty, Elizabeth and Gladys Dunson, Mary Blalock, Jennie Lou Lindsey, Mrs. William Seabrook, Mrs. Edgar Paullin, Misses Florence and Susie Fain, Mrs. Fred Foster, Miss Edith Fisher, Miss Sallie Walker, Mrs. Frances Temple, Mrs. E. V. Stewart, Mrs. J. E. Smith, Mrs. H. L. Bridges, Miss Covington, Miss Mayme Smith, Miss DeVersia, Mrs. Mary Walsh, Miss Marion Snyder, of Williamsport, Pa.; Miss Versacola Ball, Messrs. J. T. Jackson, A. M. Cohen, W. D. Akers, J. A. Boze, G. W. West, Walter Peters, G. N. Beavers, E. Stewart, Leonard McClair, Dr. S. L. W. Whitmire, W. C. Wells, J. W. Hillerman, R. L. Beavers, R. O. Barksdale, John L. Ryan, Drew Swanson, P. L. Hudson, John T. Malone, Clarence Harrison, M. B. Chafin, Dr. Clay L. Dean.

"Enoch Arden."

The broad interest which centers in any movement for the welfare of the Home for Incurables will give an additional popularity to the reading of "Enoch Arden" this afternoon at 3:30 at the Georgian Terrace.

Mr. W. W. Memminger will be the reader, and perhaps it is because the work is a favorite of his in all literature that his interpretation of it is one of the best things he does.

The incidental music by Strauss, the great Richard, will be as interesting as the poem, and Miss Margaret Stillwell will be the pianist.

Admission, 50 cents.

Suffrage Rally.

At the suffrage rally to be held on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the convention hall of the Ansley hotel, the following program will be given:

"The Citizen Mother," Mrs. Charles O. H. Craigie.

"The Woman's Rights Movement," Rev. A. R. Holderby.

"Woman Suffrage and the Labor Movement," Mr. S. D. Marks.

"Suffrage Work in England," Mrs. Anna Fletcher.

Mrs. M. L. McLendon, president of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association, will preside.

A cordial invitation to attend is extended to everyone interested.

Mrs. Atkinson to Entertain.

Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, chairman of the educational committee, Atlanta Woman's club, will entertain the sixty members of the committee this afternoon at home.

Bailey-David.

The marriage of Miss Parl Elizabeth Bailey and Mr. M. P. David took place Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock, at the home of the groom's brother, Mr. A. N. David. Only a few immediate relatives were present. Rev. Luther Johnson, of Trinity Methodist church, officiated. A wedding dinner followed the ceremony. The young couple will reside at 131 South Pryor street, Atlanta.

The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. David, of Athens.

Reeves-Andrews.

The marriage is announced of Miss Elizabeth Reeves and Mr. Louis Hansell Andrews, which took place January 5. Mr. Andrews, formerly of Waycross, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Andrews, of that place.

Dinner Party.

M. and Mrs. Frederic J. Paxon will entertain at dinner Saturday evening at the Piedmont club, in compliment to Miss Edith Dunson and Mr. W. B. Willingham, Jr.

Swilling-King.

Saturday afternoon, January 10, at the First Baotist church, occurred the marriage of Miss Macie Swilling to Mr. William Clayton King, Jr., both of this city. Dr. Daniel performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by only the relatives and closest friends of the bride and groom.

Miss Annie Swilling, the bride's sisters, was her maid of honor, and the groom's best man was Frank S. Chalmers.

The bride was a lovely picture in her cloth suit of blue, with black hat and blue ostrich feathers, and carried a large bouquet of Parma violets.

Mrs. King is the attractive daughter of Mrs. H. P. Swilling, and is prominently connected in the state. Mr. King is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Will C. King, grandson of Mr. R. J. Redding, of Griffin, Ga., and of Dr. and Mrs. William King, and is a promising young business man, enjoying the esteem of a host of friends.

Among the relatives present were the following prominent people: Dr. and Mrs. William King, Colonel and Mrs. R. J. Redding, Griffin, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Will C. King; Mrs. H. P. Swilling, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Swilling, Mrs. Davis, Mr. Sam P. Swilling, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Redding, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Redding, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Redding, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Black, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grady, Mrs. Mary Logan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logan, Mr. F. A. Quillian, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Logan, Miss Lillian Logan, Mrs. Cay McCall, Mrs. N. J. Albert, Dr. and Mrs. William Perrin Nicolson, Mrs. M. E. Bivins, Mrs. R. C. Congdon, Mrs. E. G. Warner, Miss Virginia Wooley, Mr. Shelton Vickers, Mr. Whitten, Mrs. Royal, Mr. and Mrs. Hartsfield.

After the ceremony the couple left for a southern honeymoon trip, after which they will return to the city and be at home at 217 Juniper street.

Before returning to the city they will visit the groom's grandparents, Colonel and Mrs. R. J. Redding, at Griffin.

Informal Bridge Party.

Mrs. Lloyd B. Parks will entertain a few friends informally at bridge Wednesday afternoon at her home on Eleventh street.

Tuxedo Club Dance.

The Tuxedo club gave a delightful dance at their clubrooms in West End on Friday evening. Those present were: Miss Julia Rogers, Miss Cora Fell Smith, Miss Sanborn, Miss Florence Lorain, Miss Ollie H. McClair, Miss Hazel Staack, Miss Inez Ragsdale.

Matinee Party.

Mrs. A. C. Frazier will give a matinee party today in compliment to Miss Mary Geisreider, of Mineral Bluff, Ark., who is the guest of Mrs. John A. Miller.

To Mrs. Lawton.

Mrs. Robert C. Alston's luncheon yesterday was a delightful event in the series of handsome entertainments which have marked the visit of Mrs. Alexander R. Lawton, of Savannah, with Mrs. John D. Little.

Milady roses and Scotch heather filled the large silver vase, which was the luncheon table centerpiece, and at each end of the table were smaller silver vases of the same effective flowers. The place cards attached to the glasses were pretty imported designs of baskets, garlanded with pink roses. The candle shades and all the color detail were pink.

In the party were Mrs. Lawton, Mrs. John D. Little, Mrs. Hugh Richardson, Mrs. Alex King, Mrs. H. M. Atkinson, Mrs. Edward Peters, Mrs. Carroll Payne, Mrs. C. K. Nelson, Mrs. Emily MacDougald, Mrs. John Marshall Slaton and Mrs. Henry Miller.

Mrs. Smith Entertains.

Mrs. Alexander W. Smith's bridge tea was a happily informal affair of yesterday afternoon, the occasion a compliment to Mrs. Richard W. Johnston's guest, Mrs. Marshall Johnston, of Macon.

Eight ladies played bridge, and afterwards a few others joined them for tea. Narcissi and carnations, in graceful arrangement, decorated the reception rooms, and Japanese suggestion made the tea table picturesque. Japanese mats were used, and in the center a Japanese vase of narcissi and carnations rested on a Japanese tray.

To Mrs. McBurney.

Mrs. Charles Sciple will entertain at luncheon Saturday at home in compliment to Mrs. E. P. McBurney.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Murphy will entertain at a dinner party for about ten at home on Wednesday.

MEETINGS

The Woman's society of St. Mark's church will meet at 3 p. m. Tuesday, January 13. A full attendance is desired. Please note that the time of meeting is 3 o'clock instead of 3:30.

The annual meeting of Atlanta Burroughs' Nature club will be held at Carnegie library at 3 p. m. Wednesday, January 14. Several important matters will be brought before the club, and a large attendance of the members is urged.

The Joseph Habersham chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold their regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon, January 15, at 3 o'clock, at the Winecoff hotel.

Atlanta Woman's Club Holds First Meeting During 1914

The first meeting of the Atlanta Woman's club since the New Year, took place yesterday afternoon, and was auspicious in that it was one of the most interesting of the season and brought together a representative body of club women.

Mrs. Hamilton Douglas, chairman of the committee on political science, was the chief speaker of the afternoon, and gave a most instructive and delightful talk on municipal law. She prefaced her remarks by tracing all our laws from two sources—the old Roman and Anglo-Saxon laws—and showed how in the course of the centuries the two had merged until now it was often difficult to define what is Roman and what Anglo-Saxon in our present time. She explained that the modern city is a business corporation and not a state, as in the old Roman days, and gave some convincing illustrations to show that a commission government would be better adapted to our present needs than the form in use.

The meeting convened at 3 o'clock with the president, Mrs. A. P. Coles, in the chair, and a short business session was held. Mrs. Coles announced that the members of the club had sold over $200 worth of Red Cross stamps during Christmas week. She reminded the club of a 25 cent per capita tax that all club members were asked to pay toward the general endowment fund.

Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, chairman of the education committee, told of the lecture which Miss Mildred Rutherford, historian of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, will give at the clubhouse on Baker street January 23 for the benefit of the educational fund. Miss Rutherford's subject will be "The Part Georgia Played in Making the Nation."

Mr. P. F. Bauknight, general secretary of the Blind association, spoke a few words of thanks to the Woman's club, and to Mrs. Spencer Atkinson and Mrs. McIntyre, in particular, for the part they had taken in putting the association on its feet. He asked the co-operation of the club women, as housekeepers, in putting the brooms made at the blind asylum on the market.

A delightful paper on current events was read by Mrs. Henry Thornton. She gave a concise and entertaining resume of the chief events at home and abroad that marked 1913.

Two guests who were present were called upon for short talks, Mrs. Harper, of Athens, and Mrs. Fletcher, of England. The later spoke briefly of the suffragists of her country, and said that the militants represented a small minority. The meeting was adjourned for the usual social half-hour.

O. E. S. Instruction.

Mrs. Rose M. Ashby, worthy grand matron Order of the Eastern Star of Georgia, will hold a session of instruction for the new Eastern Star chapter at the E. A. Minor lodge, F. & A. M., Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be a detailed lecture of instruction on opening, initiatory and closing ceremonies, each part being exemplified by officers. There will be a large class conducted through the ceremonies of initiation. All qualified O. E. S. members are cordially welcome to this session.

WANT BETTER SERVICE.

Citizens to Ask Improvement in Tallulah Falls Road.

The citizens of Tallulah Falls, Clarkesville and points along the Tallulah Falls railroad will begin their fight for better service on the road before the state railroad commission Tuesday morning. At present there is but one daily train each way on the line. The petitioners will ask that a second train be placed upon the road and that a better passenger and freight service be rendered.

Several people interested in the petition arrived in Atlanta Monday to be present for Tuesday's hearing.

RUCKER AND OLIVER BOTH WANT P. O. JOB

Alpharetta, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—After about six months of wire-pulling and the stirring of bitter factional feeling, the matter of appointing a new postmaster for Alpharetta remains still an unsettled problem. As it now stands, all eyes are turned on Senator Hoke Smith, as very strong pressure has been brought to bear on him.

W. C. Oliver and George D. Rucker, editor of The Press, are the applicants for the position, which is only a fourth-class office. Senator Smith is strongly inclined to indorse Rucker, who is one of his old political boosters; in fact, has indorsed him. Oliver is also a Smith supporter, and about 85 per cent of the business men and patrons of the office are indorsing him for postmaster. He has about the same per cent of the Smith supporters.

W. M. DEVORE BECOMES MAYOR OF ALPHARETTA

Alpharetta, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—In a very spirited race for mayor and town councilmen for Alpharetta for 1914, the George Rucker faction was defeated. The following ticket was elected: W. M. DeVore, mayor J. L. Swilling, clerk; Gordon Shirley, treasurer; J. B. Parris and S. L. Gardner, street committee.

TAX EQUALIZERS ARE APPOINTED IN MILTON

Alpharetta, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Theo. C. Nunnally, of Warsaw; Dr. J. D. McCollum, of Alpharetta, and W. F. Cox, of Little River, have been appointed by Judge Dorris as the board of tax equalizers for Milton county, to serve two, four and six years, respectively. The three citizens constitute a most excellent board, as they are very successful representatives of the three most important interests of the county.

TEXAS TO COMPROMISE WITH "MOVIE TRUST"

Austin, Texas, January 12.—Announcement was made at the office of the attorney general here today that a compromise had been tentatively agreed to in the suit of the state against the General Film company and ten other corporations and individuals charged with being parties to a so-called picture "trust." Attorney General Looney refused to make public the terms of the agreement in advance of its approval by the district court.

In the suit alleging violation of Texas anti-trust laws, the assessment of penalties aggregating $27,000,000 was asked. The minimum penalties would total approximately $750,000.

FARMER'S WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn. — "I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do." — Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

GREAT CHANGE IN TWENTY YEARS

Shaw Lady Looks Younger Instead of Older With Lapse of Time.

Shaw, Miss.—Mrs. V. N. Smith, of this city, makes an interesting statement of her experiences, as follows: "Twenty-nine years ago I contracted a serious form of womanly trouble. We called in our family physician, and he treated me for it, but it seemed to do no good. It went on into other bad troubles, and I commenced taking all kinds of medicines to see if I could get relief, but to no avail.

I suffered with that trouble up until eleven years ago, when I read about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and bought a full treatment. It relieved me at once, and after taking the full treatment, I am now well and stout.

I sent my brother, whom I had not seen in twenty years, one of my photographs, and he wrote me that I looked younger than when he last saw me."

For more than 50 years, Cardui has been relieving women's sufferings, and building weak women up to health and strength. No other tonic gives the same results as Cardui. No other woman's medicine has the long record of success in treating cases of womanly weakness and disease.

Cardui will surely help you.

Try it.

DONALDSON OUT; HIS BROTHER IN

County Commissioners Demote Superintendent of Public Works and Give the Place to S. H. Donaldson.

Declaring that a reorganization of the public works department of the county, under the direction of the county commissioners, was necessary, Commissioners Smith, Turman and Winn, at a meeting of the commissioners of roads and revenues on Monday morning, passed a resolution demoting Captain Tom Donaldson, for the past decade superintendent of public works, and naming his brother, S. H. Donaldson, to the position. Commissioners Waters and Anderson bitterly contested the passage of the resolution, which Commissioner Anderson later declared to be an effort to "shelve" Donaldson.

Commissioner Shelby Smith stated to The Constitution that there was no effort made to "cut off Donaldson's head." It was pointed out that Donaldson had been given a very lucrative and important position as superintendent of paving, a place filled up to recently by an expert who was paid but $3,000 a year, while the commissioners made Donaldson's salary $3,600 per year.

Resolution Making Change.

The resolution of the board of commissioners, as adopted, and which is self-explanatory, follows:

Atlanta, Ga., January 7, 1914.—To the Board of Commissioners of Roads and Revenues of Fulton County, Georgia.—Gentlemen: Your committee on public works for the year 1913 desires to submit the following report and recommendations in regard to the public works department, believing that the adoption of same will be to the material improvement of this important department, as well as to divide the work, and, as far as practical, distribute the responsibility and equalize the compensation as near as possible.

We recommend that the position of bookkeeper at the Bellwood camp be abolished, and that the purchasing agent make up and distribute the payroll in this department.

We recommend that a small force of men, in three squads, one on the south side, one on the north side and one on the west side, to be known as dirt-road repair force, and to have suitable and sufficient equipment to keep in good repair at all times the dirt roads, and that Mr. Albert Howell be put in charge of this work, he being elected by the board.

We recommend that Captain T. J. Donaldson be put in charge of all paving work in future, and being in charge of same, that he be known as superintendent of paving and paving repairs.

We recommend that Mr. S. H. Donaldson be elected as superintendent of public works, and to fill the place and have the duties as heretofore, except the matter of paving.

We recommend that Mr. O. F. Jones be elected first assistant, and Mr. T. J. Anderson be elected second assistant to the superintendent of public works.

We recommend that the following schedule of salaries be adopted for the year 1914, to-wit:

T. J. Donaldson, superintendent of paving, $300 per month.

S. H. Donaldson, superintendent of public works, $300 per month.

O. F. Jones, first assistant of public works, $125 per month.

T. J. Anderson, second assistant of public works, $125 per month.

Albert Howell, Sr., assistant in charge of dirt roads, $150 per month.

A. M. Luck, C. A. Thomason, Ed. Tyree, C. F. Collier, as overseers, $100 per month.

R. L. Maulden, foreman of shops, $110 per month.

C. O. White, assistant foreman of shops, $80 per month.

J. M. Scarborough, bridge builder and carpenter, $100 per month.

Engineers, blasters and blacksmith to be raised each $5 per month, or to be on a scale of $55 to $75 per month.

All guards to be raised each $2.50 per month, or to be on a scale of $40 to $47.50 per month.

Automobile and truck drivers, each $60 per month.

Your committee believe and are fully satisfied, that owing to the enormous amount of work now being done in this department, both inside and outside the city, such as grading, paving, sewer construction, bridge building, culverts, the care of convicts, the maintenance of our paved roads, oiling same and other work too numerous to mention, that the above rearrangement will prove beneficial in the handling of work, the demands of which are becoming greater each year. Respectfully submitted.

SHELBY SMITH,
S. B. TURMAN,
W. T. WINN,
Committee.

Caucus Is Held.

Just prior to the meeting of the commissioners on Monday morning, a caucus of the board was held, at which time it is understood that Commissioners Waters and Anderson stood out against the proposed resolution, and requested that it be not introduced, as it would "tend to demoralize the working forces of the county instead of correcting any evils in the present public works system, if any evils now exist."

The caucus of the board, which was a star chamber session, ended with no results, and when the commissioners met in regular session it was expected that the resolution would meet with rough sledding.

The introduction of the resolution came following the nominations of various county employees.

Commissioner Smith, as chairman of the public works committee, read the resolution.

So soon as it had been completed Commissioner Waters voiced his opinion that the passage of the resolution would bring about a disruption of the county forces which would only end in a tangled skein.

Commissioner Anderson asked Commissioner Smith if there was any "real business reason for the introduction of such a resolution." Commissioner Smith declared that there certainly was, and that the purpose of the resolution was stated on its face. He would add no further comment.

The matter was then put to a vote. Commissioners Smith, Turman and Winn voted aye. Commissioners Waters and Anderson voted nay.

The meeting then proceeded with routine affairs.

Following the passage of the resolution and after the adjournment of the meeting, Commissioner Anderson declared that the resolution passed was made up exactly as read to the board meeting one day last week in a caucus held by Commissioners Smith, Turman and Winn, at which neither Commissioner Waters or Anderson had been asked to attend.

Captain Tom Donaldson walked from the meeting of the county commissioners Monday morning with the one remark: "I have nothing to say." Later he was questioned at his house, but refused to answer any pointed questions.

The much discussed resolution removes Captain Donaldson from the head of the public works department of the county, and names for that position his brother, Si Donaldson. Captain Donaldson is made superintendent of paving at a salary of $300 per month.

The new superintendent of public works is given two assistants at $125 each per month.

The office of bookkeeper at Bellwood camp is abolished and the work put upon the office of the county purchasing agent.

Engineers, blasters and blacksmiths are given a $5 raise per month, while guards are given a $2.50 raise per month.

Albert Howell, Sr., is made superintendent of dirt roads by the new resolution, with a salary of $150 per month, and he is instructed to have several gangs constantly employed at going over the dirt roads of the county.

TWO MEN NEAR DEATH AS LAUNCH EXPLODES

The Nealka, Valued at $2,000, a Total Loss at St. Simons.

Brunswick, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—When the large gasoline launch Nealka was destroyed by fire today at the mouth of King's creek, St. Simon Island, the two man aboard, T. J. and John E. Kenner, both had narrow escapes, and for a time the two men feared that the boat would go down with them on board before they could make a get-away.

T. J. Kenner was in the small cabin when he heard a slight explosion on deck, and rushing out he saw the flames spreading rapidly. Hurrying out on the deck he called to John Kenner, and both of them made an effort to reach the fire extinguishers, which were inside the cabin. The flames spread so rapidly that they were both driven back on deck. An effort was then made to throw overboard a reserve tank of gasoline, which they were carrying on board the boat, but this was also impossible.

Both men then rushed for the small batteau tied on the stern of the launch, but again they were disappointed. The line to the little boat had parted and the batteau was out of their reach. As the flames were spreading to all portions of the launch, the men succeeded in reaching the batteau and both piled into it and went ashore.

They were hardly 20 yards away when the large tank of gasoline on the deck of the Nealka exploded with terrific force, throwing pieces of the metal tank high into the air and wrecking what was left of the launch. The two men then had to walk several miles in order to catch a boat and return to the city. The Nealka was a very handsome little craft, 40 feet in length and was valued at $2,000. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

DRUG CLERK HAD ENOUGH MEDICINE TO STOCK STORE

Macon, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—John Epps, a young drug clerk, was arrested here today for larceny and in his possession, it is charged, was found practically enough drug supplies to start a store. Epps had been clerking at L. A. Thomas' store and for a long time had been under suspicion. Already the police have recovered two dry goods boxes and a suit case filled with patent medicines and other articles from the store, and are now searching for two trunks. The police claim Epps had planned to open a store of his own with the stolen goods.

WRECK INJURIES NET VERDICT OF $6,000

Macon, Ga., January 12.—(Special.) W. L. Vellines, or Norfolk, Va., was today awarded a verdict of $6,000 against the Southwestern railroad in the city court of Macon as a result of injuries sustained in a wreck of one of that road's trains at Roberta, about a year ago. Mr. Vellines, who sued for $25,000, claimed that he had been deprived of his earning capacity of $1,000 a month for twelve months in addition to doctors' and hospital bills amounting to about $2,000. The railroad company will appeal.

JUDGE COX ON BENCH AT BAINBRIDGE COURT

Bainbridge, Ga., January 12.—Superior court convened here this morning with Judge Eugene E. Cox, of Griffin, on the bench. Judge Cox was recently appointed by Governor Slaton to succeed Judge Frank Park, who was elected to congress from the second district. This week will be taken up with the civil docket until Tuesday, when the criminal docket will probably be called.

This is the first time Judge Cox has presided in Decatur county. He is perhaps the youngest superior court judge in the state. He presides with dignity and poise and dispatches the business of court rapidly. His manner is quite liberal, impartial, courteous and promises to commend his administration to the bar and people, especially those who are interested in the business and economy of the court.

JACK HASTINGS RESTS IN WESTVIEW CEMETERY

Jack J. Hastings, who for a number of years was the law partner of Senator Hoke Smith, was laid to rest Monday morning in West View cemetery. Services were held at Sacred Heart church, where Father Rapier delivered a sermon in which he told of the many fine traits of the deceased. A large crowd filled the church and every seat was occupied. The funeral mass was said by Father Guban.

Many prominent citizens of Atlanta were present, among whom were Senator Smith, who came from Washington. The church was decorated with flowers from friends over the state.

The pallbearers were Peter Clark, Ronald Ransom, Marion Smith, H. C. Peeples, John Karwisch and John N. Malone.

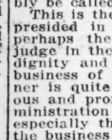

The following committee of the Atlanta Bar association attended the funeral as an escort: H. C. Peeples, chairman; Judge George L. Bell, Jack J. Spalding, John T. Dennis, Van Astor Bachelor, W. A. Fuller, W. D. Ellis, Jr., Judge Spencer R. Atkinson, Judge E. D. Thomas, Lee M. Jordan.

Ask Receiver for Singer.

H. Singer, of Atlanta, a grocer at 41 Hilliard street, yesterday filed in the United States court a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. He asserts that he owes $1,094.94 and that his assets will aggregate $200 to $800, of which $675 is the worth of his stock in trade. I. Zion, asserting himself a creditor of Singer, also filed with the clerk a petition for the appointment of a receiver for Singer's estate.

Grand Jury Summoned.

The United States grand jury will be convened by Judge Newman's order Monday, January 29. Apart from alleged violations of internal revenue laws and the breaking of some minor postal laws the present grand jury has had but little to do.

Chauffeur Only Interviewable Person in President's Party

There is a reflected glory of the great and even the chauffeur of a president has the right to feel himself very much in the limelight.

However that may be, the only interviewable person who was in the entourage of President Wilson when he passed through here yesterday morning was F. H. Robinson, the chief executive's chauffeur.

The president himself would not be seen, and the secret service men who surrounded him saw to it that no one, newspaper man or otherwise, got near enough to him to shake his hand. And, of course, the secret service men themselves would not talk. All the precedents of their profession and the subsequents, too, forbid it, for if they talked they would no longer be secret service men.

But there was one young man whose tongue was not tied, and around him the newspaper men gathered.

"What relation do you bear to the president?" some one asked, after he had dilated quite freely about the details of the trip from Pass Christian.

"I am the chauffeur," he replied quite proudly.

Two Cars on Board.

He said that the president had taken two cars with him to the gulf coast and that he was bringing them back.

"They are right in there," he declared, pointing to the coach which contained the president's automobiles. "They are beauties, too," he added, "and many a fine spin the president had with them along the gulf shore when we were down there. And I saw to it that those cars were kept in fine shape, ready whenever they are wanted. President Wilson is a man who must have things right, when and where he wants them."

There are two books which Robinson expects to write some time or other, and they will doubtless be interesting when he writes them. One will probably be entitled, "Traveling With a President From a Chauffeur's Standpoint," and the other will be "How the President Looks to His Chauffeur."

SUPERINTENDENT DYING FROM MILL EXPLOSION

Winn's Head Crushed and Leg Broken Near Albany—Two Others Hurt.

Albany, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—One of the twin boilers at the sawmill of Drake & Thompson, 14 miles below Albany, blew up at 7 o'clock this morning, fatally injuring Mill Superintendent Winn and slightly injuring two negro employees. Damage to the mill is estimated at $3,000. Winn's leg was broken in four places and his head was badly crushed. A negro who was but slightly injured had the overalls he wore torn entirely off his body.

There was a safety valve on one boiler, but none on the other, it is said. Saturday afternoon after the mill had shut down the negro fireman disconnected the two boilers for the purpose of making some slight repairs. When he fired up the plant this morning he put his fire under the boiler which was without a safety valve and seems to have entirely forgotten that the two boilers were not connected.

Just before the explosion the negro noticed that something was wrong and suddenly remembered that he had forgotten to restore the connection between the boilers. Hastening to the valve he was just in the act of opening it when the boiler blew up with a noise that was heard for miles.

Marriage of Atlantan And Girl in Americus Surprise to Parents

Americus, Ga., January 12.—(Special.) The marriage here last night of Ervin Brown, of Atlanta, and Miss Sarah Barnett, of Americus, created surprise when announced today, as not even the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barnett, were unaware of the intentions. The groom is an Atlanta merchant, and left his attractive bride here until he could return to Atlanta and close up business affairs preparatory to removing permanently to Americus.

"FIRST BALE" NEGRO HONORED BY SERVICE

Albany, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—A remarkable service was held here yesterday evening in Bethel Africar Methodist Episcopal church when tribute was paid to the memory of the late Deal L. Jackson, the negro farmer who was for so many years "Georgia's first bale man." It was a special memorial service and in addition to several negro speakers a half dozen prominent white citizens of Dougherty county spoke to the large audience present.

Jackson was probably the best known negro in south Georgia. He accumulated a fortune on his farm and was regarded as a model citizen of his race.

NEW ORLEANS POLICE HUNT FOR GOODIN GIRL

The police of New Orleans have been asked to search for pretty Genevieve Goodin, the plaintiff in the famous Metropolitan Comedy company, white slave sensation a year or more ago, who, detectives say, is wanted for having posed as the wife of Arthur Thurman in a local hotel.

She will be sent for, Chief Lanford says, if expense money is provided by E. A. Cason, of Elberton, Ga., whose daughter is the real Mrs. Thurman. The following lookout has also been sent to other police departments also:

"Lookout for an arrest Genevieve Goodin, daughter of W. O. Goodin, Pineville, Ky., wanted for living at the Ansley hotel as the wife of Arthur Thurman. She is black-haired, apparently 22 and pretty; also well-dressed."

SAVANNAH PLANS MEET TO URGE BANK CLAIMS

Savannah, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Efforts are being made to have Senators Smith and Bacon come to Savannah next Monday to "rub elbows" with the members of the Savannah Clearing House association and visiting bankers from points in Georgia and adjoining states. An oyster roast has been arranged as a special attraction for the visiting bankers.

Invitations have been sent out to all of the prominent bankers in Georgia and adjoining states. It is barely possible that Senator Owens and Representative Glass, authors of the currency bill, will be here. Efforts in that direction are being put forth. The purpose in inviting the bankers is to have the reserve system explained and to have Savannah's claims on one of the banks demonstrated.

ATHEISTS DYING OUT, SAYS DR. W. R. DOBYNS

Presbyterian Preaches Sermon on Proof of God in Lives of Sinful men.

Atheists are fast disappearing from the face of the earth, according to Dr. W. R. Dobyns, of St. Joseph, Mo., who made this statement in the course of a sermon Monday night at the North Avenue Presbyterian church. The sermon launched the second week of the revival series which Dr. Dobyns is conducting at the North Avenue church.

"If any of you have any infidel friends," said Dr. Dobyns, "though as a brand of men they are fast disappearing from the globe—give them the thirty-eighth chapter of Job to read, and then see if they have any argument left to combat the existence and power of God in the lives of men."

The thirty-eighth chapter referred to contains the well-known query: "Who provideth for the creatures of His hand?" and the crux of Dr. Dobyns' sermon was that in the care of God for the humblest creatures of earth, as well as in His influence upon the lives of men and His saving of sinners, is to be found abundant proof of the power and love of God.

Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock Dr. Dobyns will speak on "Where to Begin in Personal Work." Under the direction of Howard Wade Kimsey a splendid music program preceded the regular sermon Monday night.

GEORGIA COMMANDERY INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

The officers of Georgia Commandery, No. 981, United Order of the Golden Cross, were installed Friday night by C. A. Thompson, D. S. C.:

They are as follows: R. W. H. Pries, past noble commander; S. D. Warren, noble commander; T. J. Cooper, vice noble commander; Mrs. C. P. Tyson, prelate; J. W. Martin, herald; Henry M. Luning, keeper of records; T. G. Morrow, treasurer; J. A. Barham, warder inner gate; R. E. Moody, warder outer gate.

The commandery will meet every Thursday night instead of Friday night at 8½ West Alabama street.

ALLEGED "MOVIE" TRUST PROBED IN GATE CITY

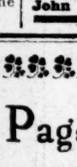

The southern end of the governmental probe, of the so-called "movie" trust, held Monday afternoon at the Hotel Ansley, lasted three hours. By late afternoon all of the government probers and attorneys, as well as the lawyers representing the defense, had left the city for New York, where on Monday next the biggest investigation yet undertaken of the alleged trust in the moving picture world will be opened.

The witnesses appearing before the probers at the Ansley on Monday were questioned, it was learned, on points covering the question of southern contracts. Witnesses were asked if they had signed away rights, etc., in contracting with the firms named in the petition filed by the government some time since in Philadelphia.

Joseph R. Darling, special agent of the department of justice, declared before leaving Atlanta that, so far as he could say at the present time, the government would undoubtedly prove its case against the alleged combine in the 5-cent amusement world.

HENRY COPE TO SPEAK AT WESLEY MEMORIAL

The boys and girls of the 'teen years are to be discussed at the meeting of the Mothers' Congress at Wesley Memorial church on Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. The speaker will be Henry F. Cope, D. D., Chicago, who is general secretary of the Religious Education association, the author of several books on the moral and religious education of young people. He expects to speak not only on the nature of boys and girls, but also on plans for providing sane and helpful recreation for them and for training them for useful citizenship. The problem of the youth on the streets and at school will be discussed. The meeting is open to the public. The subject will be "The Boy and Girl of the Adolescent Period."

"Service"—Francis E. Kamper.

The hour of the opening of the exercises has been set for 7 o'clock, and it has been pointedly stated that it is the wish of those in charge of the affair that the grocers and butchers, with their employees, come directly from their places of business to the Auditorium, where a dainty lunch will be served them.

Tables have already been set in Taft hall to accommodate the crowds, and as each person comes into the lobby of the Auditorium he or she will be provided with a tray and coffee.

A concert will be rendered by Wurm's orchestra until 8 o'clock, when the speakers will take the platform.

All of the wholesale and retail food distributors of this vicinity have been asked to attend tonight's meeting, as well as the housewives of the city. Every city salesman handling products which are served over the counters of groceries and meat shops have also been especially invited to attend the gathering.

The object of the gathering tonight is solely for the purpose of bringing about action whereby the grocery and meat clerks of Atlanta will get a shorter working day. In the majority of the grocery and meat establishments in this city the employees are laboring from twelve to fourteen and in some cases fifteen hours each day to satisfy the demands of housewives.

The lunch to be served those attending the gathering tonight will consist of Atlanta-made goods. There will not be a thing served to the public, which is invited to the affair, save foodstuffs made and sold right here in the city.

Bankruptcy Petition.

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed with the clerk of the federal court yesterday by Marcus D. Couch, of Woolsey, R. F. D. No. 1, Fayette county. The petitioner asserts his liabilities aggregate $341.24, but does not show his assets.

MUSCOGEE ORGANIZES FOR STATE CHAMBER

Plan to Start Auxiliary at Mass Meeting on Thursday in Columbus.

Columbus, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—An official call has been issued for a meeting Thursday at which a chamber of commerce will be organized in Muscogee county to co-operate with the state chamber of commerce. A luncheon will be given at 1 o'clock at the new Waverly hotel, and invitations have been issued to about 200 representative citizens to attend and take part in the organization of the proposed commercial body.

The committee in charge of the plans for the luncheon is composed of the following: O. C. Bullock, president of the Merchants and Mechanics' bank; R. F. Spencer, president of the Phoenix bank; E. P. Owsley, vice president of the Fourth National bank; Rhodes Browne, president of the National Bank of Columbus and of the Home Savings bank; Judge S. P. Gilbert, president of the Columbus Board of Trade; John M. Murrah, president of the Muscogee bank; A. M. Hale, cashier of the Third National bank; A. H. Bickerstaff, vice president of the William Beach Hardware company; P. B. Patterson, planter.

DANCING BY FIRE IN INDIAN DRESS NEARLY COSTS LIFE

Savannah, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Dressed in a wild west costume with six playmates and executing Indian dances around a fire, Bernard Grossmock, aged 4, was seriously burned this afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock, when the fringe of his suit caught on fire. Before it could be extinguished the fire had burned the little boy horribly. He is in St. Joseph's hospital.

CLAYTON COUNTY JAIL FILLED WITH NEGROES

Jonesboro, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—The jail at this place is becoming very popular with the negroes at this time, and from the way it is filling up it would look as if the negro population of the county were desirous of giving Judge Charles Reid, the new judge of the Stone Mountain circuit, a busy session when he comes to hold the February term of Clayton superior court. There are three negro murder cases, one for arson and ten others in jail on minor charges, besides a large number under bond for gaming and selling liquor.

The coroner's jury which finished the investigation of the negro Raymond Langford, who was stabbed to death on last Thursday night, ordered Will Burton held under the charge of murder, and Bud Carmichael as accessory, and two other negro men and a negro woman placed under bond as witnesses.

Sports of the Day

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

PREP BASKETBALL SEASON BEGINS

Three Games Are Scheduled for Today—League Seems Faster Than Ever Before.

The Atlanta Prep School Basketball league will commence its 1914 season this afternoon with three games. The season starts today and closes February 27.

Six teams comprise the league this season. Fourteen playing days are scheduled with three games on each day.

The games scheduled for today are:

Tech High v. Marist at Tech High.

Boys' High v. G. M. A. at Boys' High.

Peacock Fleet v. Donald Fraser at Peacock Fleet.

The games will be started promptly at 3 o'clock. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged to all the games. The fair sex will be admitted free.

PAT GRAHAM AGREES TO GET ASTRIDE WAGON

Chattanooga, Tenn., January 12.—(Special.)—Offering to forfeit a large section of his salary if he takes a drink during the entire season, Pat Graham, Lookout catcher, has signed his contract for 1914. Writing from his home in Case City, Mich., Pat states that he is eager to hear the crack of the bludgeon, and that he intends to be good all summer.

"I feel like I am going to have one of the best seasons in my career," writes Pat. "I have abstained all winter, have taken a good deal of exercise and will be able to report next season. I am conscious that I have erred in drinking too much in previous seasons, but I'm willing to give up money this year if I take a drink."

President Andrews doesn't intimate whether the conditional Ping Bodie contract was tendered Pat or not, but it is probable that Pat has just been taken at his word and signed. Southern league rules are rather pronounced against probationary contracts and side agreements.

Graham's signature increases the list of signed regulars to seven, in addition to whom several other semi-pros and recruits have affixed their signatures to 1914 documents calling for salary from the Chattanooga strongbox.

HANDICAP V. BOGEY MATCH AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., January 12.—(Special.)—The second event in the Silver Foils will take place here tomorrow, when the Handicap v. Bogey match takes place. There will be two prizes.

TENNIS AMATEUR.

National Body Makes New Ruling on Term.

New York, January 12.—A new definition of the lawn tennis amateur was formulated today by the amateur rules committee of the National Lawn Tennis association, and will be offered for adoption at the annual meeting of the national body here on February 6.

It provides that a player may receive money to cover his necessary expenses only "when officially selected to represent his association or club in a world's championship or in a national, sectional or state championship held under the auspices of the United States National Lawn Tennis association."

ORIENTAL TENNIS.

California Players Defeat Japs at Manila in Doubles.

Manila, January 12.—The lawn tennis doubles championship of the Orient was won here today by William M. Johnston and Elia Fottrell, both of California, who beat the Japanese players Kumagae and Nomura in three straight sets. The score was 6-2, 6-4 and 6-2.

FEDERAL LEAGUE HEAD ON TOUR OF THE EAST

Chicago, January 12.—James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal Baseball league, left last night to visit the cities comprising the eastern end of the league's circuit. It was expected that he would take up the question of managers for three of the eastern clubs, Toronto, Buffalo and Pittsburg.

President Gilmore would not say where he was going first. It was reported that he would make an effort to sign several major league players who have received offers from the Federals. His destination was supposed to be Buffalo.

Buffalo, N. Y., January 12.—President James A. Gilmore, of the Federal Baseball league, arrived here from Chicago today and will confer with President Walter F. Mullen and Richard T. Carroll, of the local club. Neither President Gilmore or the local men would indicate the matters to be taken up. Gilmore will probably go to Toronto before returning to Chicago

Texas Football.

Austin, Texas, January 12.—Wabash college Crawfordsville, Ind., has taken the place of Notre Dame for the Thanksgiving game in the University of Texas' 1914 football schedule, just announced. The game will be played at Austin. Other dates in the schedule include Oklahoma university at Dallas, October 24; Haskell Indians at Houston, date undecided, and University of Mississippi at Austin, November 17.

CY FALKENBERG DID NOT SCORE A RUN LAST SEASON

The fact has been brought to light that "Long Cy" Falkenberg, the noted "come back" pitcher of the Cleveland Naps, did not score a single run last season.

Falkenberg got on the bases no fewer than twenty-five times during the season, but his team mates could not send him around even once.

Cy, whose batting average resembles that of our old friend Leon Ames, is real sore, and threatens to knock out a home run the first time he goes to bat in 1914.

Flynn v. Levinsky.

New York, January 12.—(Special.)—Battling Levinsky, the rising light heavyweight, will receive a real test here tomorrow night when he battles ten rounds against Porky Flynn.

All Young Giants Sign.

New York, January 12.—The New York National league baseball club today received the signed contract of Catcher Elmer Johnson, drafted from the Omaha club. Secretary Foster announced all the young Giants had signed their contracts.

NOW A FIGHTER

PETER JAMES,
Director of the Montgomery Athletic club and a well-known wrestler, who has turned his attention to the boxing game and is out with a challenge to meet any welterweight in the country. James bars no one who weighs 145 pounds.

MIKE GIBBONS WINS OVER BOB M'ALLISTER

Right Hook to Jaw Put McAllister to Sleep in Seventh Round.

New York, January 12.—Mike Gibbons, of St. Paul, knocked out Bob McAllister, of San Francisco, in the seventh round of their 10-round match here tonight. The decisive blow, a righ hook to the jaw, came at the end of 1 minute and 38 seconds' fighting in the round. The men are middleweights.

Gibbons weighed in at 152½ pounds and McAllister at 160. McAllister outpointed his opponent in the first four rounds. Gibbons got to his man in the fifth, landing left hooks to the jaw and effective rights to the body, but McAllister's work at long range evened up the round.

Gibbons repeatedly hooked McAllister on the jaw in the sixth and McAllister showed signs of tiring. In the final round Gibbons caught the Californian with a heavy right cross to the jaw. He followed this up with a bombardment of lefts and rights and ended the contest with a hard right hook to the point of the jaw.

FEDERALS WILL DRAFT PLAYERS FROM CUBA

New York, January 12.—The Federal league is giving attention to Cuba in its search for baseball players, according to Pope Conte, a Cuban, who has sent several of his countrymen to the big leagues here. Conte, who is now in this city, said James A. Gilmore, of the Federals, had asked him to serve as scout and agent in Cuba. Conte has given no decision in the matter, but says he is inclined to help the Cuban players get the best possible openings for their talents.

TED EASTERLY SIGNS WITH THE FEDERALS

Los Angeles, Cal., January 12.—Ted Easterly, catcher of the Chicago White Sox, and Arthur Krueger, outfielder of the Los Angeles Coast league, signed contracts today with the Kansas City Federal league club.

Groh Signs With Reds.

Cincinnati, January 12.—Second Baseman Groh, of the Cincinnati National league club, today signed a contract to play with Cincinnati for the next three seasons. Groh exhibited three liberal offers from different Federal league clubs, but concluded to refuse them all.

Ezra Midkiff Signs.

Baltimore, Md., January 12.—Ezra Midkiff, the only reported "hold out" of the Baltimore International league club, today signed a contract with that club. The Kansas City Federal club was said to have made an offer to Midkiff.

Harry Williams for Yankees.

New York, January 12.—President Farrell, of the New York American league club, today received the signed contract of Harry Williams, the first baseman purchased from the Galveston, Texas league, club last August.

GRIEF IS PREDICTED FOR FEDERAL LEAGUE

President Barrow Says Promoters of Organization Are Not Fighting Fair.

New York, January 12.—Edward Barrow, president of the International league, in a statement today concerning the proposed invasion of the Federal league of three International league cities—Toronto, Baltimore and Buffalo—declared the new league's leaders were not fighting fair and predicted that "their tactics will bring them to grief."

"In the first place," Mr. Barrow said, "they are trying to masquerade as a major league when they never can become one. They will have about four major league players to a team, but that will not make them a major league. They have a minor league circuit. Toronto, Baltimore and Buffalo turn out good crowds, but they do not turn out major league crowds.

"The players who jumped to the Federals were disloyal to their employers. Men like Tinker, Brown and Knabe were in organized baseball long encugh to know that loyalty to the reserve clause is one of the foundations of organized baseball and as much a part of their contract as their salary.

"I will say that the International league will fight these fellows to a finish in any of our cities where they intend to place teams. So far, I have not heard of them signing any of our men, though I have three letters which the Pittsburg Federals have sent to my players. I might add that these players were not offered as much as they are getting in organized baseball."

SAIER WILL NOT JUMP TO FEDERAL LEAGUE

Cubs First Sacker Signs Three Years' Contract With Charley Murphy.

Chicago, January 12.—Victor Saier, the Chicago Nationals first baseman, whose defection to the Federal league has been rumored for a week, set doubts at rest today when his contract for three years with the local National team was received by President Murphy.

PICHEGRU WOOLFOLK CAPTAIN OF VIRGINIA

He Is Chosen to Succeed Gooch, Who Has Won a Rhodes Scholarship.

Charlottesville, Va., January 12.—Pichegru Woolfolk, right tackle, tonight was elected captain of the University of Virginia football team. He takes the place of Robert Gooch, who recently resigned as captain-elect to accept a Rhodes scholarship at Oxford university. Woolfolk's home is in Richmond.

Mr. Stallings had nothing to say pertaining to baseball matters during his visit.

LUCAS RECOMMENDS POSTOFFICE ANNEX

Savannah, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Postmaster Marion Lucas has recommended the purchase of a building to be used as an annex to the present postoffice building. The building is located just behind the main postoffice building. There is a bill now pending providing for an appropriation to erect a new federal building at Savannah.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL PRESIDENT TO MAKE VISIT TO SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—President Charles H. Markham, in company with several prominent directors of the Illinois Central railroad, will make a tour of inspection over the Central of Georgia the last of this week and the first of next. President Markham and the visiting officials will be tendered a luncheon in Savannah Saturday, at which the directors of the Central and other prominent men will be present.

COTTON DECLINED 11 TO 17 POINTS

The Market Closed Barely Steady at Decline—Opened Steady, but the Selling Weakened It—Spot Quiet.

New York, January 12.—The cotton market was lower and unsettled today, under liquidation by recent buyers which appeared to be inspired by relatively easy cables and rather active selling of March contracts through spot house brokers. The close was barely steady and from 11 to 17 points net lower.

There appeared to be quite a good many over-Sunday buying orders around the ring at the start, and first prices were steady at a decline of 2 to 4 points, which was better than due on the showing of Liverpool. The market soon weakened, however, under more or less general selling, much of which was supposed to come from interests who had bought on the small ginning figures of last Friday.

Private cables attributed the decline in Liverpool to rather freer hedge selling and local liquidation was supposed to reflect the disappointment of recent buyers that bullish ginning returns had not stimulated a more urgent immediate demand from trade sources or a more material broadening of speculative support.

The talk of an increasing number of unemployed in various industries and of further commercial troubles or failures may have contributed to the selling movement, which came from foreign and southern sources, as well as from local longs. Leading spot interests were heavy sellers of March and May, and while these peopple wee credited with buying some July, the increased offerings of near monthts doubtless helped to unsettle the market.

Active positions showed net losses of about 17 to 18 points in the late trading. Slight rallies followed on covering, but business became less active on bulges, which were barely maintained, as the market closed within 2 or 3 points of the lowest.

Southern advices indicated no material change in the spot situation.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, January 12.—Cotton stood at the decline throughout the entire session today, opening 3 to 6 points down and closing 9 to 16 points down. No pronounced selling was in evidence at any time, but offerings were sufficient to cause a gradual failing off.

First prices were due to poor cables on Liverpool futures. The tone was steady on the opening, but brokers poured a fairly large volume of selling orders into the ring and they were not very readily absorbed. In the early trading, the decline was widened to 10 to 12 points. This was followed by a small recovery on bullish comment regarding sales of 12,000 bales on the spot in the English market and private reports from spot centers in the interior of the cotton belt showing that holders were very firm in heir views regarding prices.

Buyers were not aggressive at any time, and short sellers gained confidence from the lack of any display of bullish enthusiasm.

Around the noon hour, the decline amounted to 12 to 15 points; following this was another temporary reaction after which prices went 13 to 18 points under the last quotations of Saturday. The tone on the close was steady, with January shgwing the wldest loss.

The decline on January at one time amounted to 18 points, which suggested that longs in that month were running from tenders.

New Orleans, 11,800 to 12,800, against 4,932 last year.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, January 12.—On local selling and offerings by spot houses with some speculative liquidation, the market opened lower and declined under the pressure during the forenoon. General advices were not specially bearish, but speculation was lacking and the trading circumscribed. Prices closed at about the lowest of the day. It is noted that the requirements of the current season will probably exceed those of last year, and that the spot demand in the south is good. Despite this, the south seems to be selling and the decline met with little resistance. The feeling in general business is better, and the trade expects this to extend to our market where the sentiment is not bearish, notwithstanding the recession prices.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, January 12.—More cheerful news today regarding various manufacturing and trade lines was not confined to textiles, but failed to stimulate the cotton market. The volume of selling, apparently by spot interests, was in excess of the demand, except at concessions. Statistics seems to be working towards bullish result, but current prices are not regarded as offering great inducements for purchases and the trade appears disposed to await some fresh incentive before actively operating in anticipation of a permanent price trend.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, January 12.—Liverpool was again lower than due today and the bears took heart. There was heavy short selling by two or three big interests and all day the bears were more aggressive than the bulls. The result was a decline of 13 to 15 points in the active months. The close was barely steady. A reaction after the rapid advance of last week was natural perhaps, but there seems no reason for big break at this time. American mills are doing well, and they have plenty of cotton yet to buy. Liverpool is due to come 1½ points down.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, January 12.—Cotton seed oil was firm and higher on covering of shorts and further accumulation for long account, inspired by advancing crude markets and rumors of European inquiry. Closing prices were 1 to 5 points net higher. Sales, 8,500 barrels.

Prime crude, 5.80@5.87; prime summer yellow, 6.85@7.05; January, 6.89; February, 7.01; March, 7.17; April, 7.27; May, 7.35; June, 7.45; July, 7.51; August, 7.65. Prime winter yellow, 7.50@7.75; prime summer white, 7.00@7.70.

COLD WAVE SENT WHEAT PRICES UP

Market Closed Steady at a Gain of One-Half to Five-Eighths Cent—Corn Unchanged to Half Cent Up.

Chicago, January 12.—Sudden cold, which threatened to kill unprotected fall-sown wheat, today carried prices substantially higher. Most of the advance was held, the market closing steady at a gain of ½ to ½@⅝c above; oats dearer by a sixteenth to ⅝@¾c, and provisions virtually unchanged.

Wheat today more than made amends for last week's losses due to liquidation in corn and oats. Besides the cold wave, buyers were encouraged by a decided falling off in the estimated export surplus of Australia. It developed, also, that generous sales for export had been made saturday. Speculators in wheat worked, for the most part, on the belief that snow covering had largely disappeared throughout the winter crop belt. A good deal of perplexity was evinced however, because, despite the assumed danger to the plant, the amount of outside investment was not as large as might have been expected.

Corn showed firmness because the cold weather was regarded as certain to increase feeling. Bullish sentiment, though, was tempered by predictions that if the cold continued, heavier receipts might be looked for owing to better conditions for handling. Warehouse interests were conspicuous on the bear side.

Buying on the part of shorts lifted oats. The incentive was the strength of other grain.

Weakness at the yards counteracted speculative demand for provisions. Neither side was aggressive.

UPWARD MOVEMENT IN STOCK MARKET

Large Gains Scored by Many Prominent Issues. Texas Company Rose 7 Points—Bonds Strong.

New York, January 12.—Speculation was animated during the early market today and prices moved upward briskly. Activity decreased later, but stocks were sustained on a substantially higher level until the closing hour, when the market sold off. A significant feature of the movement was its breadth. Many of the minor stocks which usually are not prominent in speculation came to the front and scored large gains. Shares of the independent steel companies and the oil, fertilizer and equipment issues were strong. Some of the leading issues lost all their gains in the reaction of the last hour, but the specialties held up well.

Sentiment was more cheerful. The lower rates for money and Saturday's unexpectedly strong bank statement indicated improvement in the monetary position. Steel trade reports were better in respect of both prices and volume of incoming business. The foreign demand was centered in steel.

Texas company continued the spectacular advance which brought it into prominence last week, adding 7 points to the high price of Saturday. New Haven was bid up 2 points in response to the announcement from Washington of an agreement between the attorney general and the company for partial dissolution of the system. Mexican Petroleum jumped nearly 9 points.

New York Central continued to sag, falling under the low point touched in the 1907 panic. It dropped to 88¾, the bottom figure of nearly twenty years. Pressure on this stock was associated with Washington advices concerning a proposed congressional inquiry into the New York Central system.

Bonds were strong, with some issues rising a point. Total sales, par value, $2,942,000. United States 2s advanced ⅛ on call.

"STORIES ABOUT STARS"

Humorous and Serious Tales of the Ball Field

Number 1.

By Billy Evans.

"Chief" Bender, famous pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, is almost as clever handling the shotgun as the baseball. Several years ago, because of salary trouble, he threatened to retire and go on the road for a big powder manufacturing concern. It is understood that he was offered a fat salary to give up the national pastime, but simply couldn't resist the call of the diamond.

Last winter Bender spent much of his time hunting, part of it being spent in the south. He put in several weeks duck hunting in Florida. He was kept busy all last summer relating some of the wonderful killings he made on several of the expeditions. Next to his ability to pitch, Chief is proud of his cleverness with the shotgun. Any time Bender was found relating some of his experiences to new listeners, "Rube" Oldring always managed to arrive on the scene and spring this one:

"Say, did Chief tell you about getting that entire flock of ducks with the exception of one?" was the way Oldring would generally start his story. Upon being informed that Chief had not as yet told that one, "Rube" would proceed to relate the tale, which Chief swears is the result of Oldring's vivid imagination, but which "Rube" insists is the gospel truth.

"It seems that Bender, who was hunting with a friend, spied what appeared to be a flock of ducks. Keeping our of view, Bender crept up as closely as possible without making known his presence. When he believed the opportune time had come, he blazed away. To his great delight every duck with the exception of one remained motioniess. Calling to his friend, who was some distance oack, the two hastened to the scence of the slaughter. En route Bender confided to his friend that had be been using his old gun he would have got the whole flock. He expressed much regret that one managed to get away. Upon reaching the flock, imagine Bender's feelings, when they discovered that Chief had shot into a flock of decoys, and the only real live bird in the bunch soared safely away." During the final recital, Oldring always edged away, and at the finish was always out of throwing range.

POSTAL MONEY MEASURE CARRIES $305,247,757

Washington, January 12—Exemption of all assistant postmasters from the civil service and an appropriatioin of $200,000 for experiments in government ownership of railway mail cars were two proposals that attracted much attention when the annual postoffice appropriation bill was submitted to the house today. The bill carries $305,247,757. Last year the total was $283,441,171.

A minority report by Representatives Hadden, of Illinois, and Steenerson, of Minnesota, republicans, attacked the proposal to take the 2,400 assistant postmaster out of the civil service as a "vicious" move for political purposes.

The much-talked-of plan for government ownership of telegraph and telephone lines was not touched on in the bill. If it comes before congress it will be in the form of a separate measure.

Commander Hubbard Dead.

Washington, January 12.—The death of Commander John Flovel Hubbard, commander of the United States gunboat Wilmington, was reported to the navy department today from Hong Kong, China. Commander Hubbard died Saturday. He had been on duty in China for nearly two years. He was 47 years old and a native of New York.

SPEER INVESTIGATION BEGINS JANUARY 19

Washington, January 12.—Plans for the investigation of the official conduct of Federal Judge Emory Speer, of Georgia, were completed today by the subcommittee of the house judiciary committee. The subcommittee, Representatives Webb, of North Carolina; Floyd, of Arkansas, and Volstead, of Minnesota, will go to Macon next Monday, January 19, and open hearings. Later the committee will go to Savannah and may proceed to Waycross, Albany and Valdosta.

Drought in Alabama.

Huntsville, Ala., January 12.—(Special.)—Reports from northern and northwestern portions of Madison county state that the wells have nearly all gone dry again. Unseasonably dry weather has prevailed and springs are lower than they have been in many years. People are hauling water many miles in some cases and stock is suffering. Indian creek is said to be nothing more than a string of puddles during the last few days.

Fourth Trial of Dr Hyde.

Kansas City, Mo., January 12.—The fourth trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, charged with the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, was postponed again today, because, the county prosecutor set forth, of a suit filed last Saturday by two Jackson county tax payers to enjoin the county court from paying the expense of further prosecution of the physician. The case was then set for January 19.

CONGRESS BEGINS ITS LONG SESSION

Anti-Trust Legislation Looms as Big Business. Anti-Trust Experts at Work in Both Houses.

Washington, January 12.—Congress settled down to its long regular session today after a recess dating from the passage of the currency reform bill just before Christmas. The coming administration anti-trust legislation program loomed up as the big business of the winter; but with the prospect of waiting until next week for the president's message both houses turned actively to other matters.

In the house return to work was celebrated by prompt passage of the first of the annual supply measures, the District of Columbia appropriation bill, and the introduction of the usual opening day batch of miscellaneous measures. The senate began debate on the Alaskan government railroad bill.

Anti-Trust Experts.

Anti-trust experts in both houses began a period of extraordinary activity, to end when the anti-trust program is written into law before the close of the session. Actual committee work will be delayed pending President Wilson's address. A rough draft of the address will be brought to Washington by the president and later in the week Chairman Clayton, of the house judiciary committee, and Chairman Newlands, of the senate commerce committee, probably will be called into conference wit hthe president and Attorney General McReynolds.

Meantime Chairman Clayton and Representatives Carlin and Floyd, of the house committee, are reviewing the long list of anti-trust measures already before the committee. It is not probable that any of these bills will be accepted as a part of the administration plan, but all the ideas embodied in them will be considered. Senator Newlands, of the senate commerce committee, expects to take up the anti-trust program Friday.

To Strengthen the Sherman Law.

Representative Webb, of North Carolina, introduced his bill to strengthen the Sherman law by declaring illegal every contract, combination or conspiracy in restraint of "any part" of trade and designed to reach so-called gentlemen's agreements or understandings. His bill would put the burden of proof of reasonableness upon the defendants.

Representative McCoy, of New Jersey, another democratic member of the judiciary committee, introduced his bill to prohibit interlocking directorates among banks and trust companies.

Both measures were referred to the judiciary committee.

In the senate a congressional investigation of the Michigan copper mine strike, proposed in a resolution by Senator Ashurst, was one of the features of the reassembling. Both houses got down to work promptly.

THAW PLANNING SERIES OF VISITS

Concord, N. H., January 12.—Harry K. Thaw, elated by the report of the federal court commission that his release on bail would not endanger public safety, remained in his apartments at a local hotel today, receiving many messages of congratulation and planning a series of visits within the state in the event that Federal Judge Aldrich allows him his freedom under bonds.

The next move in the case will be the filing by Thaw's counsel of a petition asking that the amount of bail be fixed and a date for a hearing on the question will be set by the court.

Thaw and his attorneys are still at work preparing a brief ordered by Judge Aldrich last month in the matter of extradition and to which William T. Jerome, special deputy attorney general of New York, will reply before the final court hearing is held.

Several attorneys conversant with federal court procedure agreed today that Thaw, if released under bonds, would be immune in every part of the federal jurisdiction from arrest by state authorities in connection with the murder of Stanford White or his escape from Matteawan, pending the final disposition of the habeas corpus proceedings in the federal court.

It was suggested by one of the lawyers that it might be advisable for the prisoner to keep out of New York, as he might be detained there on some technicality, though he probably would be able later to obtain his release by a writ of habeas corpus.

To U. S. Supreme Court.

Albany, N. Y., January 12.—Attorney General Carmody will appeal to the United States supreme court, if necessary, should Judge Aldrich, of the federal circuit court, permit Harry K. Thaw's release on bail. Hs also will take steps to stay any such order by Judge Aldrich, pending final disposition of the case by the higher court.

In announcing this determination tonight the attorney general expressed the opinion that in entertaining Thaw's application for release Judge Aldrich had exceeded his authority.

Thaw will be kept under close surveillance by New York authorities in case of his release and if he attempts to leave Judge Aldrich's jurisdiction he will be arrested.

Mr. Carmody would regard the release of Thaw under bond as equivalent to giving him his permanent freedom, he said.

HAVE you ever stopped to think that the feed you use has more to do with your success in poultry raising than any other one thing? It is an undisputed fact and the sooner our Southern Poultrymen realize this fact the better success they will have. This applies to the man with a thousand chickens or more, and also to the man that has a few hens in the back yard for home use. By proper feeding a dozen hens should furnish eggs enough the year round for an ordinary family, but you can't get the results by feeding just any old kind of feed. The majority of the grocery stores sell chicken feed at 8 lbs. for 25 cents and usually it is a very inferior grade. We will sell and deliver to you 10 lbs. of Red Comb Feed for 25 cents, and it is the cleanest and best sold on the market. We handle the Red Comb Feeds exclusively and sell them to you at the same price or less than you have been paying for feed that isn't nearly so good. Let us send you out a bag of this feed or a ten-pound package and compare it with what you are using. We deliver promptly to all parts of the city.

THE Cyphers Incubators are better made, easier to operate and safer than any other make of machine. We guarantee a bigger hatch and stronger chicken than from any other machine. We carry these machines in all sizes. Don't buy an Incubator until you investigate the Cyphers.

HASTINGS' 1914 catalogue now ready. Be sure and ask for copy.

CAPITOLA chicken feed, made by Atlanta Milling Co., from high-grade wheat, corn and oats. An honest feed, made exclusively from high-grade grain. No grit, weed seed or other worthless stuff. Write for sample.

CHIEF'S CARD MAY COST HIM HIS JOB

Report Says That Strong Effort Will Be Made to Make Change in the Fire Department.

Reports current in political circles Monday indicate that a strong effort will be made to depose Chief W. B. Cummings as head of Atlanta's fire department.

Members of the board of firemasters are displeased over certain phases of the chief's attack on Mayor Woodward, and several have declared their intentions of chiding him.

Councilman Jesse B. Lee said Monday that he construed Chief Cummings' card as an act of insubordination, and intimated that he will ask the board to bring charges against the chief at the special meeting on Wednesday night.

"Chief Cummings' attack on the mayor was a slap in the face of every member of the board," Councilman Lee said. "I don't know who prompted him to write the card, but I consider it most unfortunate and inopportune."

Term Ends in June.

Chief Cummings' term expires in June. The place is filled by council on the recommendation of the fire board.

Alderman C. C. McDonald has called a special meeting of the board for Wednesday night. He stated on Monday that the meeting is for the purpose of taking up some matter with the underwriters. He denied that the meeting was called for the purpose of taking up the Cummings-Woodward embroglio. He says he does not know whether or not the members will take up the row.

Alderman McDonald is vice chairman of the fire board. He presides during the absence of Alderman Harwell, the chairman. Alderman Harwell is still in the Grady hospital suffering from the fall he sustained in council last Monday.

Will Take No Hand.

Mayor Woodward denies that he has been informed of the intentions of some of the members of the fire board to bring charges against Chief Cummings.

"If such is the case, I will take no hand in the meeting because it will involve a matter which is between Cummings and myself," the mayor said. "I propose to deal with this issue as a personal issue between Cummings and myself."

City Attorney James L. Mayson says that the board of firemasters cannot try Chief Cummings for insubordination.

"The chief of the fire department is elected by council," he said. "The board of firemasters is merely a standing committee of council, its members being appointed each year by the mayor. The chief would, therefore, have to be tried by council. However, the board of firemasters, if it sees fit, can bring the charge and ask council to conduct the investigation."

Says He Will Ignore Mayor.

Chief Cummings replied to Mayor Woodward's counter attack on Monday with a statement to the effect that he will ignore the mayor in the future The chief said that he saw nothing in the mayor's statement that was new except in the change of names.

"I certainly am not afraid of a grand jury investigation or anything else that Mayor Woodward instigates," the chief said."

HOUSTON IS BOOMED FOR RESERVE BOARD

Believed President Will Select Secretary of Agriculture for One Member.

Washington, January 12.—It became known tonight that serious consideration will be given Secretary Houston, of the department of agriculture, in choosing members of the new federal reserve board. Mr. Houston took an active interest in the framing of the currency act, and with Secretary McAdoo make up the reserve bank organization committee, which launch reserve banks and select reserve districts and cities. He has been talked of among bankers as a probable member of the reserve board, and members of congress interested say they would not be surprised to see President Wilson name him.

Among other prominent men mentioned in Washington for places on the board are Paul M. Warburg, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., New York; James G. Cannon, of the Fourth National bank, of New York, and George M. Reynolds, of the Continental and Commercial National bank, of Chicago.

With the return of the president tomorrow it is expected that final decision will be made on the appointment of a comptroller of the currency, who is ex-officio member of the reserve board. It was regarded more probable than ever today that the president would nominate J. S. Williams, who is assistant secretary of the treasury. Among Secretary McAdoo's callers today were several members of the senate finance committee, and it was reported that Mr. McAdoo is desirous of finding out just how democrats on that committee look upon Mr. Williams.

Secretaries McAdoo and Houston will hold their first public hearing here Wednesday, devote three days to that work, and leave for the west Saturday.

350 SEISMIC SHOCKS CAUSE PANIC IN JAPAN

Volcanic Eruption Follows Shocks and It Is Feared Many Have Perished.

Tokio, Japan, January 12.—A series of 350 slight earthquakes shook the town of Kagoshima, at the southern end of the island of Kiushiu, today. They were followed by the eruption of a volcano on Sakura, a small island in the Gulf of Kagoshima, where two villages were buried in ashes.

The earthquakes continue incessantly and the work of rescuing the inhabitants of Sakura by boats across the intervening 3 miles of water from Kagoshima is extremely difficult.

Ashes have fallen all day in Kagoshima itself and telegraphic communication with the capital is interrupted.

Warships have been dispatched to Kagoshima with doctors and supplies. Railroad and telegraph lines are broken.

The town of Kagoshima is in great danger, according to the latest reports. Earth shocks and violent volcanic eruptions continue. Inhabitants are fleeing for their lives. The population of the Island of Sakura is about 15,000, and it is impossible to estimate the casualties. It is feared many have perished.

The volcanic eruption on Sakura began with thunderous explosions and the volcano became a roaring furnace. Burning rock and ashes set fire to several villages.

Strict Enforcement of "White Slave" Act Promised in Atlanta

According to District Attorney Hooper Alexander, of the United States court, the transportation of a woman from one state to another constitutes a violation of the "white slave" act, regardless of whether the commercial feature is involved or not.

In this opinion Mr. Alexander takes the same view as the federal judge in the famous Caminetti case in California, and disagrees with the opinion expressed by another United States court judge in another state, who held the "commercial adjunct" was necessary.

Mr. Alexander's opinion is of especial interest in view of the fact that several alleged violations of the Mann act have been brought to the attention of the federal authorities.

SERUM IS APPLIED DIRECTLY TO BRAIN TO CURE PARESIS

Philadelphia, January 12.—In an effort to cure a case of paresis, serum was applied directly to a diseased brain here today and surgeons declare the operation, the first of its kind in this country, will be successful. Two operations in France have been successful.

The operation toay was on a man 51 years old. Two small holes were bored in his skull, one on each side of the brain. A serum obtained by inoculating a rabbit with an arsenic compound was injected into each side of the brain.

"Broadway Jones" Delights Big Audience at Atlanta

"Broadway Jones" delighted a large audience at the Atlanta last night. There were few moments when ripples of merriment were not spreading over the house, with here and there loud laughter and applause.

And small wonder. "Broadway Jones" is an extremely clever comedy, essentially Cohanesque in structure, full of clean, wholesome humor and not without its patriotic appeal to the youth of America which has characterized most of the latter day productions of this gifted young author and actor.

Time was when it was the popular thing to speak lightly of George Cohan and his grotesque dancing. That day is past. He is a factor to be definitely reckoned with in the theatrical world of today. His influence is all for good. He may be extravagant and at times boisterous in his conception of the humorous, but he is always clean; he never lets the suggestive creep in. There is never a bad aftertaste to one of his plays.

"Broadway Jones" is typical of the best he has done. It tells the story of a young man who has just blown in a quarter of a million on Broadway and is on the point of marrying an antique and grotesque widow for the purpose of rehabilitating his fortunes when he receives a cablegram that his uncle has died and left him his chewing gum factory in a small Connecticut town. Of course, he doesn't marry the widow. The chewing gum trust offers him $1,200,000 for his plant and trade-mark, and he is on the point of accepting when the charming young head accountant of the plant tells him the trust intends to close down the factory and throw hundreds of people out of work. Jones is suddenly inspired to do something better than blow in money, and he declines to sell and enters a fight to put the plant on a financial basis and defeat the octapus. His ideas of business are decidedly hazy, but he is made of the proper stuff and of course there is but one answer—the defeat of the trust to the accompaniment of wedding bells for Jones and the source of his inspiration.

"Broadway Jones" reminds one of "Get Rich Quick Wallingford." However, it is not so amusing as the latter play.

The company is an evenly balanced one. True there are no stars, but the general average is well up to the mark.

Thomas V. Emory, who plays the part of Broadway Jones, essays to imitate George Cohan. To those who have not seen George Cohan he proves amusing. Personally, I never cared for imitation, no matter how clever. George Cohan is a striking personality. He is full of queer tricks of the trade and personal idiosyncracies. The man who attempts to submerge his own individuality and portray a role as Cohan does is doomed to failure before he starts. It can't be successfully done.

"Broadway Jones" will be seen tonight, Wednesday matinee and Wednesday night.

SIDNEY ORMOND.

Nearly Every Georgia County Represented in State College

Athens, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Almost as many counties as there are in the state of Georgia are represented in the attendance upon the three weeks' short course work at the State College of Agriculture here this week.

Two hundred and sixty-three in all enumerate the "short course farmers," the "Boys' Corn club scholarship winners," the demonstration agents, the women agents for the canning clubs, the "Girls' Canning club scholarship winners," and the specials here for the "short term."

Many classes of students are represented, as well as every section of the state—gray whiskered plantation owners, young ladies teaching in the rural schools, little misses who took prizes in the contests in canning tomatoes, rather naturally inquisitive boys from nearly a hundred counties—these compose the membership of the student body of the state college for the second week of the midwinter activity on "Lumpkin Hill."

Father and son are studying side by side the problems of practical agriculture in Georgia. Boone Suddeth, of Maysville, entered yesterday for a special short course. He is being coached by his son, Robert C. Suddeth, who, with interims of active practice of what he has learned, has been a student of the "Ag college" for seven years.

Army officers are taking advantage of the opportunities afforded. The first two to register for the short course proper were Colonel F. G. Hodgson and Captain A. C. Hodgson—both retired officers of the U. S. A., and both taking special courses in poultry husbandry.

AT THE THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

After witnessing several acts at the Forsyth yesterday afternoon the critic was in doubt as to which number deserved the greater meed of praise. His perplexity was solved for him, however, in less time than it takes to tell, when the "queen of the ragtime world" appeared before the footlights and proceeded to show Atlanta theatergoers just why "rag" is popular.

Her name is Sophie Tucker, and she is sometimes called "The Mary Garden of Ragtime." This much is certain. In her line she is quite as good as the Salome star was ever painted by press agents.

Miss Tucker has a personality that wins her audience from the start. She seems to enjoy being on the stage; life to her appears one huge frolic, for even there in the wings where none but a favored few could see, she was dancing to the music of the orchestra, just for her own enjoyment. And she was most liberal with encores, coming out again and again to answer legitimate applause. She is the first of the big women stars to make "really" good in Atlanta in vaudeville.

Another act that was given a cordial reception and was kept on the stage for some time, was that of Bessie Kyle and Harry Richards in "A Regular Club Fellow." It's just a medley of song and talk, but then Miss Kyle is there, and the many friends she has won in the days gone by and the new ones she adds on her every appearance in this city, didn't much care who was her partner, or what they were doing, just so long as she was before the footlights.

Francis McGinn and company offer a touch of police life with an unusual end to the sketch. Now on the police force of every city there are many honest men—the grafters are the exception—but on the stage the grafter is in the majority.

In "The Cop" we find not only an honest private in the ranks who won't take "blood money," but an inspector, who, though appearing to be crooked in order to test his subordinate, is in reality, anything but a grafter. The act carries a finish that leaves a pleasant impression.

The show opened with Van Cleve, Denton and "Pete," the donkey; Monroe Hopkins and Lola Axtell offer a novelty which is paying its second visit to this city; James Cullen, "The Man From the West," a singer, does well, and "The Awakening of the Toys" keeps most of the audience in their seats. That's some job, as Manager Hugh Cardoza will tell you, if you ask him about the troubles of the final act at the Forsyth.

Norman Hackett.

(At the Lyric.)

Norman Hackett demonstrated to Atlanta theatergoers that he is capable of other than roles of the swashbuckle type by his well poised, intelligent portrayal of the gambler Jack Brookfield, in Augustus Thomas' "The Witching Hour," at the Lyric, last night. Mr. Hackett fitted snugly into the part, or rather the part fitted the particular talent of the romantic young actor. He arose to the full height of his art in some of the most difficult scenes, and in the final climax of the third act he was perfect.

"The Witching Hour" is reputed to be the masterpiece of Augustus Thomas, and was played for several seasons by John Mason. The story is based on incidents following the murder of Governor-elect Goebel, of Kentucky. The action is swift, and every scene skillfully drawn.

In the hands of a less capable company, such as supports Mr. Hackett, nothing less than a failure could be expected, but here let it be known that every member of the Hackett company showed careful and intelligent study of their parts. Especially is it true of the wonderful characterization of Justice Prentice, executed by Burton Robbins. Mr. Robbins deserves unstinted praise for his work. Another splendidly executed role was that of Frank Hardmuth, played by Edwin Vail. Daniel Reed, Teddy De Duc, R. H. Turner and Andrew Streng were excellent in their respective parts. Miss Ilka-Marie Diehl is happily cast. Misses Seymour and Vincent were very good.

"The Witching Hour" is elaborately mounted, in fact it is one of the prettiest staged in Atlanta in some time.

As a whole, the play is well worth seeing, not only from the standpoint of dramatic merit, but from the viewpoint of correctness of detail.

"Within the Law."

(At the Atlanta.)

Judging from the advance sale of seats, the inquiries by phone and by letter from out of town as well as in the city, interest in "Within the Law" is even keener than when the play was first announced for Christmas week, when it broke the Atlanta theater records. It comes back Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and it looks as if records will be broken again. Certainly no play returning to Atlanta under the conditions as are now in force has had such a big sale and created so much interest among all classes of theatergoers. The sale opened yesterday morning and all day purchasers were in line. The play has been so thoroughly discussed and so many hundreds have advised their friends to see it that big crowds are a certainty. The same company and production which was here Christmas returns in the play. The matinee will be given Saturday.

Recognized Pictures And Were Given Seats To Play at the Atlanta

In The Constitution of Sunday there were presented nine snap shots of pedestrains, taken by The Constitution photographer last week, and the lines under the cut carried the welcome information that these nine, provided they recognized their pictures, would be given tickets to the first night of "Broadway Jones" at the Atlanta theater.

Last night the following had proven their right to seats and enjoyed an excellent play: Mrs. Sigmund Well, 325 Washington street; Mrs. Dan Neel, 106 McDonough street, Decatur, Ga.; H. M. Nielson, of Mair & Berkle (jewelers); J. M. Wooten, 50 Windsor street; Miss Julia Norris, 42 Larkin street; Miss Grace LeCraw, 382 West Peachtree street, and Miss Florence Robinson, 66 Hood street.

JOHN Y. GARLINGTON PARDONED BY BLEASE

Coluumbia, S. C., January 12.—John Y. Garlington, former president of the Seminole Securities company, convicted of breach of trust in the management of the affairs of the Seminole company, and sentenced to three years' imprisonment, was pardoned today by the governor.

Carlington was paroled by the governor on February 4, 1913, after serving about a year of his sentence. His trial took plaec at the January, 1910, term of the court of general sessions of Richland county.

GIRL SPURNS FATHER AND STICKS TO LOVER

Pretty Miss Bradley Refuses to Return Home—Says She Will Stand by Foster.

Mobile, Ala., January 12.—"I will never return to Pemberton, now or never," Miss Delilah Bradley, pretty New Jersey girl who eloped to Mobile with Joel M. Foster, told her father, Henry L. Bradley, tonight. Miss Bradley was summoned to the United States attorney's office this afternoon. While the attorney was closeted with her Mr. Bradley was called into the room. "I am here to take you back home," he said. She flatly refused to go.

Tonight father and daughter met again. "I told my father that I would never return to Pemberton My place is with Mr. Foster, and I am going to stick to him. I told my father that."

When Mr. Bradley reached here today from Philadelphia, he was almost on the verge of a collapse.

Foster, who is a son of the millionaire president of the International Correspondence schools at Scranton, Pa., deserted his wife and children for the girl. Foster is held on a charge of white slavery.

ABOUT TO BE ARRESTED HE KILLS HIMSELF

San Francisco, January 12.—Corporal Joseph Kindemueller, assistant clerk in the office of assistant paymarster, United States marine corps, shot himself in the head late today, as a government agent and detectives were breaking in the door of his home. He died before an ambulance arrived.

A complaint against Kindsmueller was made by Major William Glassgon, United States marine corps, who charged theft of the proceeds of two checks aggregating $244.38, and the probable forging of both.

Kindsmueller left two notes, one to his mother in Germany in which he explained he wished to save her from disgrace, the other telling his office chiefs he preferred weath to facing trial.

HE GAVE POISON TO THREE WIVES TO HELP LOOKS

Frankfort-on-Maine, January 12.—The plea of "not guilty" was entered today by Carl Kopf, druggist and fencing master, when brought up for trial charged with killing his two children, his father and his first wife by administering poison, and with attempting to commit similar crimes on his second and third wives and another person.

The accused admitted today he had given a poisonous drug to his three successives wives, ostensibly as a means of improving their looks. To his third wife he had also given fever germs, but she escaped death owing to the vigilance of her doctor.

The three women had been insured by the prisoner for $5,000, $7,500 and $20,000, respectively, and each fell seriously ill within a year after her marriage.

Kopf gave various explanations for the presence of the poison in the bodies of his victims. His wives, he said, had taken it as an ingredient in a beauty compound, and he had injected the drug into the bodies of his children in order to embalm them.

Among the germs found in possession of the prisoner were those of typhoid, cholera, puerperal fever and tuberculosis.

EDITOR C. R. PENDLETON SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

Macon, Ga., January 12.—Of the illness of C. R. Pendleton, editor and principal owner, The Macon Telegraph will say in the morning:

"Slight improvement in the condition of Mr. Pendleton was reported by his physicians last night, this improvement being over his condition at the same time Sunday night.

"However, the physicians regard his condition yet as very serious, acute Bright's disease having been a development of the last few days, an addition to his original trouble, that has caused the doctors grave concern."

THE HUNTING SEASON

For Real Estate is from January 1st to January 1st

During this length of time the real estate Field is pretty thoroughly hunted.

It stands to reason that if you hunt with people who know the Field, you will be more successful than if you hunted alone.

We have been hunting since 1865, and pretty successfully, too.

SIEGEL TAPPED BANK FOR HIS LOOSE CHANGE

And He Tapped So Constantly That He Got $754,191 Without Security.

New York, January 12.—Henry Melville, receiver for the Henry Siegel & Co. bank, told the committee on banks of the senate today that "whenever any of the proprietors felt the need of any loose change to the amount of a few dollars he went to the bank and took what he wanted, without giving any note or security of any kind." Mr. Siegel himself, the receiver said, borrowed $754,191 without security except a written agreement pledging 34,000 shares of the common stock of the Siegel Stores corporation against these loans.

The hearing was held by the senate committee to get testimony for use in revising the state banking laws in relation to the privileges of private banks. The whole day's session was spent investigating the affairs of the bankrupt Siegel enterprises. Mr. Melville said the transactions he described were legal under the present law, but admitted that conditions were "unfortunate."

The Siegel bank, according to the receiver's testimony, had deposits of $2,550,333, distributed among 15,000 customers of the Fourteenth street store in this city. Mr. Melville said this money was lent also to the two Siegel stores in New York and one in Boston. The actual assets of the bank, he said, were $14,000 in cash, $25,000 in banks and a cash bond of $100,000.

VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY HEARS JAPANESE DEAN

Charlottesville, Va., January 12.—With a message of good will from Japan to the United States, Dr. Shesuke Sato, dean of the college of agriculture of the Imperial university, at Sataporo, and second Japanese scholar to visit this country on the American-Japanese exchange professorship foundation, opened a series of lectures today at the University of Virginia. He spoke to students and faculty, and was received with a spirited ovation.

Dr. Sato referred with evident pleasure to the fact that he was a fellow student at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore, with President Wilson. His admiration for President Wilson, he said, had grown steadily since then, and he congratulated the United States on its choice of him as the white house tenent.

"The brotherhood of nations is brought nearer by the real feeling of friendliness existing between the United States and Japan," he said. He added that this feeling "rested upon such deep-seated foundations that it almost was impossible to conceive of a situation that could change it."

Dr. Sato said his mission was in the interest of international peace. He will visit the University of North Carolina, Illinois, Minnesota, Johns Hopkins, Brown and Columbia.

THOMAS JOHNSON WINS SWEETHEART OF YOUTH

Thomas P. Johnson, a widower, 50 years of age, of Hopkinsville, Ky., came to Atlanta Sunday to claim the sweetheart of his youth, Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Kyzer, of Hopkinsville and a widow, and they were married Monday afternoon at 6 o'clock by Dr. Hugh K. Walker at the home of Mrs. Harry Johnson, a daughter of Mrs. Kyzer, whom she is visiting.

Mr. Johnson is a wealthy planter of Hopkinsville. They left Monday night for a honeymoon in Florida.
